Locals make up one percent Avon walkers

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Sixty-three of the 6,236 who participated in the Avon Chicago three-day walk for breast cancer, between Milwaukee and Chicago, were local to this area. More than $11 million net will go for breast cancer research because of this walk.

The group called itself "striders for life" and was started by Denise Dale of Lake Villa. She set up a web site and most of the other 62 joined her effort via that site. Others coming directly from this area include Sue Ann Kegel, also of Lake Villa, Eunice Mueller, Pat Rosemann, Emily Rosemann, Jennifer Burrell, Pam Black and Lori Punko, all of Antioch.

Rummage sale brim-full, one week collection remains

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

With a full week to go before St. Peter's 43rd annual rummage sale begins, the sale has a record-breaking number of large items and school full of small items available for bargain hunters.

The sale runs from 6 a.m.-9 p.m. on Thursday, June 27; 8 a.m.-9 p.m. on June 28; 8 a.m.-7 p.m. on June 29 and from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. on June 30.

"We have 15 cars this year. Last year we had six," said head organizer Claudette Skvarce. "We have approximately 20 boats, 2 campers and we're filled to the brim everywhere in the school. This year we'll have two semis of furniture that doesn't make it into the school.

The sale is the second largest in Lake County falling behind Lake Forest. "We're still trying to beat Lake Forest, but we haven't been able to do that yet," said Ardeen Harris, one of the organizers of the annual Antioch event.

Skvarce added that she loves the last Saturday before the sale begins as she has to direct traffic to get the donations into the school.

As with last year, every room in the school was filled to the brim with clothing, antiques, art, furniture, exercise equipment, appliances, and toys. All appliances are tested to ensure they are in working order prior to the sale.

"This is a great place for young couples or families starting out to be able to furnish a house reasonably," Harris said. "This is a very generous area. We get lots of nice things each year."

Storeowner faces sexual assault charges

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Police Dept. charged Luther L. Belcher, III, 27, of 318 Prospect Dr., Round Lake Park, with aggravated criminal sexual abuse, battery of an insulting nature and disorderly conduct at 4 p.m. on June 15.

Detective Sgt. Craig Somerville said the arrest came after investigation based on a report from the victim, a 14-year-old male.

"The fourteen-year-old reported inappropriate conversation and touching by Belcher. The incident occurred at a business owned by Belcher," said Somerville. "The victim felt uncomfortable about what happened and flagged down a police officer."

Somerville said that the officer contacted the young man's mother and that she brought him into the station to make the report.

"This is exactly what kids should do when they feel they are in trouble," said Somerville. "Going to the police is the best thing."

He added that the Antioch Police Dept. commends both the young man and his parents for making the statement that lead to the quick arrest of the alleged offender.

Belcher has been remanded to the Lake County Jail on $50,000 bond. If convicted of the aggravated criminal sexual abuse charge, a Class 2 felony, he could be sentenced to 3-7 years in the state penitentiary.

Village votes down two new zoning requests

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Two zoning requests were denied by the board of directors of the Village of Antioch for the greater good of the community.

Home Towne Electric was denied its request for property to be rezoned from R-1 (residential) to M-1 (industrial).

Trustee Scott Pierce made the motion and concurred with Trustee Dorothy Larson's reasoning behind her vote to deny. "They're on Rte. 83 and back up to Oakwood Knolls. The developer balked at having to put in an 80-foot buffer, and wanted 50 feet or less. I feel we have a duty to protect those residents."

The second denied request was from Herb Behrenbruch with 13.75 acres of land on Grass Lake Rd. who wanted to annex to Lake Villa, waiving the provisions of the boundary agreement between Antioch and Lake Villa.

"I think we should stick to our boundary agreement as it is," said Pierce. "Otherwise, we'll have Lake Villa further up into our neighborhoods."

Kia of Wau-kia-gan stands alone!

Kia is one of the most progressive automotive corporations in the world. They are constantly working on customer requests for new models to introduce to their line-up. In the past year, they have introduced the Sedona van, the Optima luxury sedan and the Rio Cinco wagon. Now they are getting ready to roll out their brand new, full-size sport utility vehicle, the Sorento. But, in order to really get the full Kia experience, it is recommended you go somewhere that deals in only Kias.

Kia of Waukegan is a stand-alone franchise – all Kia, all the time. In fact, they're Lake County's only stand-alone Kia dealership! Their sales associates are well-versed in the subtle – and not so subtle – differences that separates the Kia line-up from its competition. Their service department has exclusive Kia-trained, A.S.C.-certified technicians. Their manager, Tom Gisleson, is a member of Kia's exclusive Regional Dealer Marketing group.

Kia of Waukegan understands the money you choose to spend on a new vehicle is a very important decision. Kias are low-priced and well-built. They start at less than ten thousand dollars! And Kia of Waukegan has a variety of ways to help you get into the Kia you want. Their finance experts have worked in the Waukegan area for more than 10 years, having established outstanding relationships with over a dozen financial institutions. Their experience helps you get the lowest financing possible.

Then there's Kia's amazing warranty. Every Kia model is backed by Kia's Long Haul Warranty – a 10-year/100,000 mile powertrain warranty, 5-year/60,000 mile basic warranty plus a 5-year roadside assistance plan.

Low prices, the lowest financing possible for you, a great warranty and great service. It's what Lake County's only stand-alone Kia franchise is all about, Bob Rohrman's Kia of Waukegan.

Still time to register for Run for Freedom

Annual run benefits library this year

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It makes sense that the proceeds from the eighth annual Run for Freedom held on the Fourth of July in Antioch would support freedom of expression through the acquisition of books, videos, magazines for the Antioch Public Library.

The 5K-run/fun walk is a USATF (United States of America Track and Field association), and is sponsored by the State Bank of The Lakes.

Each year a local and worthy cause is selected beneficiary. Roger Manderscheid, executive vice president for the bank and race director said, "The money we raise through the run stays local by benefiting causes that our community cares about."

Race coordinator Mary Lou Toomey added, "We chose the library this year since the timing coordinates so well with its new expansion. The library benefits the entire community and we felt it could put the funds to good use."

The race both begins and ends at the intersection of Cunningham and Poplar streets. Runners will take off at 8 a.m. with the walkers following five minutes later.

"The course is the same as last year," said Rosemary Kilimnik, who is organizing this year's event along with Toomey.

Registrants will receive complimentary T-shirts, a course map and refreshments. There will be two water stations, mile marker displays and course marshals throughout.

Last year, the Run for Freedom drew 1,200 runners and walkers from the collar counties and beyond. Participation was up about 200 from the previous year. This year is on track to be another record-breaker.

"We're at a point now where we are sophisticated enough to attract serious runners, but small enough to please the recreational runners and families that just want to enter for the fun of it," said Toomey.

Registration will be held at the bank (440 Lake St., Antioch) through July 3, and at the event on the Fourth of July. A registration form can be printed off of the bank's web site at www.thisisyourbank.com, and mailed along with the $10 entry fee ($15 the day of the race). Packets can be picked up on race day.

Awards will be given to the top three male and female overall finishers, as well as the top three finishers in 14 age groups.

For more information, call either Toomey or Kilimnik at 395-2700.

Register for Fourth of July sports tournaments

Registration is being accepted by the First National Bank-Employee Owned for its annual Fourth of July sports tournaments. The tournaments will be held in Williams Park and include basketball, softball and volleyball.

The Crazy Co-Ed Softball tournament will begin on the evening of July 3 and runs throughout the Fourth of July. A $40 entry fee is required and a maximum of 20 teams will be accepted.

Cash and prizes will be awarded to the top three teams. For more information, call Mike Gliniewicz at 847-395-1888.

Co-Ed Sand Volleyball will from 9 a.m. until dusk on July 4. A $35 registration fee is required and only the first eight teams to register will be accepted. Cash and prizes will be awarded to the top four teams.

Applicants must be at least 16 years old. For more information, call Kevin Daw at 847-395-4760.

The Basketball Three Point Shoot Out will run from noon-3 p.m. and requires a $5 entry fee per person. There is a competition for children and adults.

Cash and prizes will be awarded to the top three individuals in each age group. Registration takes place on July 4 from 11 a.m.-noon, or by calling Karen Kubin at 847-838-2265.

Teens create local version of 'Spoon River Anthology'

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Voices from Lake Villa's past spoke from beyond their graves, as 25 high school and junior high school students created their own version of Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" at the Lake Villa District Library.

The students' public reading of first-person poems about people from the late 19th century was the culmination of an intensive week-long writing workshop conducted by playwright Eugene Baldwin.

Baldwin, who teaches at DePaul University and Robert Morris College, has been running "writer-in-residence" workshops for grades 4-12 and for adults of all ages for 10 years.

While normally, his workshops are arranged through the Illinois Arts Council, in this case, the library approached Baldwin directly.

Both home schooled students and public school students were invited to apply for the program, which was open to ages 11-17.

The program was divided into two groups, with one meeting in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The 2-hour sessions met for each of five days, and on the fifth day, following the final session, the groups gathered together to publicly recite the poems written in the workshop.

"I took them through the creative process," explained Baldwin. The students learned that writing begins long before pen meets paper.

The research phase of the project involved reading Masters' poems, as well as reading several accounts of the life of Lake Villa and its past residents.

When asked "Why the 19th century?" Baldwin said, "You can't write about the living. They can talk back to you." He noted that most of the people best known in Lake Villa lived in the early 20th century.

David Boyd, a 15-year-old home school student, said, "I didn't think I'd get into it." He was hesitant at first, but became more enthusiastic as the project evolved.

His poem, as are the others, is his fictionalized version of the life of a real person from Lake Villa's past.

He chose to imagine the life of Daniel Sherwood, born in 1845, and killed in the Civil War. In David's poem, he has Sherwood speaking from a grave in Angola Cemetery.

The life of Allendale's founder, Edward Bradley, got a poetic interpretation by Amber May, a 17-year-old Antioch Community High School student.

"Deep beneath the snowy piers/They huddled, shivering..." she wrote, describing the homeless waifs that Bradley first encountered in Chicago streets.

"I've been writing since I was little," she said, noting this is not the first writing workshop she has attended. The young writer would like more of the same—but different.

A clean car can be a great source of pride, especially when the act of washing it can help send a winning dance team to dance camp.

The Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Dance Team will have a car wash on June 22-23 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. at the front entrance of the high school by the circle drive. Donations from the car wash will be used to assist with expenses incurred by attending dance camp held at Northern Illinois University later this summer.

The team took first in state in 2000 and placed second in "kick" and third in "funk" this past year at the state finals.

If your car has "wash me" fingered into the dirt, consider letting the dance team clean it for you.

POLICE BEAT*Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.LAKE VILLA*Possession of cannabis

Heidi L. Pretzer, 32, of 26222 W. Oak, Antioch, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 11, at 9:34 p.m., while driving eastbound on Monaville Road near Alberta. Police stopped the car after observing the driver and passenger switch seats. The driver said he did not have a valid license. The passenger, Pretzer, was found to have a green leafy substance in her purse. A cooler with four cans of beer was found in the car. Two cans were open. Pretzer was charged with possession of cannabis (under 30 grams) and illegal transport of alcohol. She was released on an I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan, on July 10.

George J. Hedrick, 24, of 35738 N. Hunt Ave., Ingleside, and Michael P. Suchowski, 17, of 24731 W. Clinton, Round Lake, as well as two 15-year-old females, were arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 7, at 8:12 p.m., while driving westbound on Monaville Road near Fairfield. Police stopped them after Hedrick was observed speeding away from a stop sign at a rate of 68 mph in a 55-mph zone. The vehicle had a single bench seat, with only two seatbelts. One of the female passengers was sitting in the center of the seat, unbelted. The other was sitting on Suchowski's lap. Police detected an odor of alcohol on Suchowski's breath. He told police Hedrick had given him beer. Hedrick confirmed the statement. A search of the vehicle turned up a bag in the glove compartment, containing a marijuana pipe with a cannabis resin in it, and some rolling papers.

Hedrick was charged with speeding, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of cannabis (under 30 grams). Suchowski was charged with illegal possession of alcohol by a minor. The two females were charged with violation of seatbelt laws. All were served with notices to appear at Grayslake Branch III on July 10 at 1:30 p.m.

Illegal delivery of liquor to minors

Eight people, including seven underage drinkers, were arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 7, at 1:37 a.m., at 155 N. Milwaukee Ave. (Route 83) Police, responding to a complaint about noise, came to the apartment building and found a balcony filled with people. All but one were underage, and all but one of the underage partygoers (a pregnant woman) admitted drinking alcohol.

James E. Taylor, 23, of 1911 Country Dr., Grayslake, was charged with illegal delivery of liquor to minors. The seven minors charged with illegal consumption were Kara A. Musial, 19, of 37703 Parma, Lake Villa; Stasia L. Talacyzynski, 20, of 155 N. Milwaukee Ave., Lake Villa; Joseph J. Stiles, 18, of 208 Villa Ave., Lake Villa; Craig J. Whittington, 18, of 34080 Route 45, Grayslake; Anthony V. Herman, 19, of 36558 N. Lawrence, Lake Villa; Michael E. Lang, 20, of 39253 N. Petite Lake Rd., Lake Villa and Jason R. Hoff, 19, of 1702 Fairfield Rd., Lindenhurst.

All seven were administered breath tests, and all tests registered the presence of alcohol, with values ranging from .012 BAC to .083 BAC. They were charged under "zero tolerance" laws that prohibit any alcohol consumption at all by anyone under the age of 21.

Each of the eight arrestees was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-405, on July 3, at 9 a.m.

DUI

Sylvia Buescher, 46, of 36886 N. Wildwood Dr., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 7, at 11:43 p.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Cedar Avenue. She was stopped after police observed her driving erratically, making a wide turn and crossing the double yellow center line. She continued driving for two blocks after police activated emergency lights. She failed field sobriety tests and a breath test. She was charged with improper lane usage, DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. She was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 5.

LINDENHURSTDUI

Jennifer T. Karnazes, 21, of 930 Taylor Dr., Gurnee, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 16, at 11:59 p.m., while driving on Route 132 near Victory Drive. She said she had only had one beer, but failed four of four field sobriety tests, and a breath test yielded a result of .149 BAC. She was charged with improper lane usage, DUI, DUI over .08 BAC and possession of drug paraphernalia. She was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 9, at 9 a.m.

Bernard C. Gerlack, 36, of 18537 W. Dady Court, Gages Lake, and Dawn R. Johnson, 21, of 2621 Salem Blvd., Zion, were arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 8, at 10:16 p.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near the Serbian Brothers Village. Police parked in the former Eagle lot near Linden Plaza observed two motorcyclists speeding eastbound on Grand Avenue. A Lake Villa police officer's radar clocked the bikes at 58 mph in a 35-mph zone, as the riders turned onto Grand Avenue from Granada. Both bikes switched from lane to lane without signaling. As they continued weaving, police paced the riders at a speed of 60 mph in a 45-mph zone. When stopped at the Serbian Brothers location, Gerlack refused to take field sobriety tests or breath tests. He admitted drinking three beers. After he had been processed through the Lindenhurst Police Department, it was determined he had been previously convicted of involuntary manslaughter and reckless homicide in connection with a DUI. Johnson, who admitted drinking 2-3 beers, failed six of six field sobriety tests. A breath test yielded a result of .139 BAC. During the arrest process, a bag was found in her possession, containing a substance that field-tested positive as cannabis (under 30 grams). Police also found various pills, which Johnson said had been prescribed for her.

Both cyclists were charged with speeding, improper lane usage and DUI. Gerlack was also charged with violation of license class, as he could not produce a Class M license.

Johnson was charged with DUI over .08 BAC and possession of cannabis. Gerlack was released after posting $100 cash and his driver's license. Johnson was released after posting 10 percent of a $3,000 bond. Both are to appear in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 9, at 9 a.m.

James W. Ross, 37, of 25171 W. Oak Lane, Antioch, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 14, at 12:14 a.m., while driving westbound on Grass Lake road near Savage. He was observed swerving and crossing the double yellow line. He failed five of five field sobriety tests and a breath test yielded a result of .097 BAC. He was charged with improper lane usage, driving with an expired license (Feb. 22, 2002), DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 9, at 9 a.m.

ANTIOCHDUI

Donald S. Pedersen, 27, of 611 Phillips

Circle, Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on June 16 at 11:41 p.m. on Main St. at Depot.

Police stopped Pedersen because of the loud music coming from his vehicle. As the officer spoke with him, the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on Pedersen's breath.

Pedersen failed all field sobriety tests requested of him, and was arrested for DUI. He was transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he refused chemical testing.

Pedersen was put through booking procedures and issued citations for DUI and illegal sound amplification. He was released on cash bond.

Warrant

Troy G. Bixby, 28, of 297 Joanna Court, Antioch was arrested on warrant and arrested for driving while revoked on June 14 at 2:01 a.m. on Rte. 83 at Joanna Court.

An officer saw Bixby heading southbound on Rte. 83 and new from prior knowledge that his license was revoked. Bixby was unable to produce a driver's license or proof of insurance.

His identifiers were checked through LEADS/SOS and confirmed that his driver's license was revoked as well as the information that he was wanted on a $5,000 warrant (10 percent applies) through Lake County for failure to appear on DUI charges.

Bixby was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for driving while revoked and driving an uninsured vehicle.

He was released on personal recognition for the new charges and then transported to the Lake County Jail for the outstanding warrant.

Justin M. McBride, 19, of 38842 Belmora, Lake Villa, was arrested on warrant on June 10 at 11:17 p.m. on Main St. at Orchard.

McBride was stopped for a broken tail-light. He was unable to supply proof of insurance to the officer.

His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and came back with information that he was wanted on a $2,000 warrant (10 percent applies) through Lake County.

McBride was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for no proof of insurance and improper lighting. He was released on personal recognition for those charges pending his July 24 court date.

McBride posted $200 cash bond for the warrant and was released pending his June 24 court date.

Suspended

Michael G. Rich, 43, of 40173 north Rte. 83, Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on June 14 at 4:19 p.m. on Rte. 83 approaching Rte. 173.

Police saw his vehicle traveling northbound on Rte. 83 in the southbound lane. When stopped, Rich told police he did not have his driver's license on him and that he couldn't find his insurance card.

Rich's identifiers were checked through LEADS/SOS and came back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper lane usage, driving while suspended and driving an uninsured vehicle. Rich was released on personal recognition pending his July 10 court date.

Lindenhurst Police received a complaint from a Falling Waters resident on May 24 that $1,800 worth of underwear was missing from her home following a visit from a cable installer.

The resident had her grandmother at her home, waiting for the installer, who was in her bedroom from 8:20-10:20 a.m., according to her report to police. When she returned home, she found she was missing 60 pairs of panties, valued at $1,000 and 30 bras, valued at $800. The victim, who had just moved into the townhome, delayed her report to police while she searched her belongings for the missing lingerie.

Although police have questioned the cable installer and have attempted to obtain DNA samples from the victim's home, thus far there have been no arrests.

The installer was issued a "no trespass" warning as a precaution. The investigation is ongoing.

theater. On June 22, the seats will be removed and put into storage. Renovation begins July 1.

The box office will move into the storefront one door south of the theater for the duration of the renovation. The phone numbers will remain the same: 847-395-3055 for reservations and 847-395-3433 for other business.

PM&L's next production, "It Had to Be You," will be performed at Antioch's VFW Hall located on North Ave. east of Rte. 83, as will the first two shows of Season 42.

"This production has a small cast," said publicity director Betty Smouse. "There are two people plus one walk-on, so I expect that at first they'll be rehearsing in homes. Things get so busy at the VFW."

"It Had to Be You" will run weekends July 26-Aug. 11.

"Denise was really our leader," said Mueller. "She organized special training walks and went out every day no matter what the weather. I have a new appreciation for the forest preserves in Lake County, with beaver and swans, than I did before."

Burrell said all the training and preparation really helped the group to make it over the 60 miles. "It helped us to keep on going and to be able to walk through injuries. It was worth it. Coming into Montrose Harbor was just incredible. I don't think I've ever cried so much."

Both Burrell and Mueller said the closing ceremony was emotionally overwhelming with young girls, pregnant women and lots of cancer survivors being honored at the end. "There were thousands of people cheering us on and giving us support. It was really something," said Mueller.

Burrell added, "They kept calling all of us who walked heroes, but really the heroes are all the survivors who were there."

Both also concurred that experience was phenomenal and that all should do it at least once.

"There were parts of the walk that were absolutely grueling," said Mueller. "It was very well organized, however, and there was constant supervision. There was always help nearby if you needed it."

Though participants stayed in tents, there were semis with showers in them, "great" food at the pit stops and everything and anything else to make the experience as nice as possible.

"There were three rules and they were all 'no whining,'" said Mueller, "but there was nothing to whine about. Everything was so well organized and thought out. It was great."

Both thanked those who supported them, and Mueller added that even after the fact, neighbors were coming to her with checks in support of the walk. "I'm sure no one is going to turn down additional money for this cause," she said.

side yard fences under certain circumstances.

Bob Silhan, director of planning, zoning and building, was the petitioner for the changes. The combined planning and zoning board made the recommendation that the village board accept the proposal.

At the planning and zoning meeting, Silhan said, "The impetus is two-fold. Allowing fences in the front could like nice if shorter and, like a picket fence, are not 100 percent opaque."

Front and side yard fences would have to be 48 inches or less in height and must have slatted openings making the fence at least 50 percent opaque.

He added that certain lakefront lots need the fences as protection. The ordinance change would affect those who live on Bowles Rd. on Lake Marie.

Resident Dick Anders said, "We have people we don't even know where they are coming from. They get on our piers. They seem to think this is public property."

Silhan said the ordinance changes would be a better way of handling a number of potential fencing requests than asking residents to get fence variances.

In cases of developments with their own covenants, those covenants rule over village ordinance.

LAKELAND
NEWSPAPERS

June 21-27, 2002

Lake County offers a variety of alternatives to supermarket shopping to accommodate any number of lifestyles. While one-stop shopping may be considered a perk, there are those who prefer no-stop on-line computer shopping and home delivery. Others are looking for locally grown or organic vegetables. For others still, the big selling point is uniqueness of merchandise.

On-line

Peapod service is linked with a major chain grocery store; it allows shoppers to use their home computers to stock up on essentials. A click of the mouse allows one access to the entire store's selection of fresh produce, meats and seafood, name brand and private label packaged goods, and household items.

The web site offers tips for newcomers to the service such as checking to ensure the service is available in a given area and reserving a delivery time before starting to shop. While pictures are nice, turning the display product pictures off can optimize shopping speed.

Weekly specials and on-line coupons are available. Special "search" functions make it easy to find specific products and name brands.

The transaction is completed when the on-line order is delivered at the reserved time.

Market Day is another service that allows for on-line shopping with the added benefit of directly supporting local schools. About 6,000 schools in 16 states participate in the year-round program.

While many chain groceries have gone mega, there are "super" alternatives

What was started as a neighborhood fresh produce cooperative by Trudi Temple to support her missionary work in the mid '70s has turned into a fund-raising food cooperative for schools. The first "Produce Day" was held in 1975 at Walker Elementary School in Clarendon Hills. In 1978, the Market Day Corporation was formed.

Products can either be ordered via its web site or on order forms supplied by the participating school. One does not have to have children enrolled at the participating school to order goods. Clicking on "Sale Search" on the Market Day web site will assist in finding a nearby school.

Many of the items available are frozen, and freezer space should be considered when ordering. Items are categorized into subheads such as breakfast, poultry and desserts for convenience.

Recipes, sales and product information are all available as well.

Orders are taken and delivered to the participating school once monthly, and must be picked up at the school.

Procedures vary some from school to school, but there is generally a window of couple of hours in which to pick up orders. Delivery is available, for a nominal fee, through some schools.

Locally grown, organic

Farmers' markets are increasing in popularity for their ability to provide locally grown, and in many cases, organically grown fruits and vegetables. Communities, such as Antioch, have brought farmers together to meet the needs of residents.

Prior to the first meeting to organize the farmers' market nearly a year ago, Antioch's community development director Glenda Sorensen said, "The merchants and residents are all excited about the idea of having a farmers' market here, and we want something that will work for our community." The inaugural event was held June 14.

Small-scale farmers' markets are often held as part of local craft fairs. Melinda Walker of Eberle's Roadside Veggies and Country Store, with locations in Antioch and Trevor, Wis., said, "We try to grow all of our own fruits and vegetables, but if we're not able to, we get things from other local farmers."

She said local farmers work together to help everyone to provide a good variety of items.

"We get things in two or three times a week from a few sources," Walker said. "We want things to be as fresh as possible and we want to have a good mix of color and an interesting variety."

Prairie Crossing Farm in Grayslake has 11 acres of land in production of organic vegetables. "We have another 90 acres in transition that will be all organic," said Teresa Smetzer, who refers to herself as "the farmer's wife."

"Our lettuce is divine," she said. "Herbicides and pesticides cover up the flavor of the vegetables. It's really a treat when you can taste the full flavor."

Resident and customer Connie Barhorst concurred: "I've been eating a bag of spinach for lunch. I just had my third baby and this is part of my fitness routine."

Unique to this farm is that families and groups of volunteers help with the harvesting, done on Tuesdays and Fridays throughout the growing season.

"Farming really is a great family activity," said Smetzer. "It's great for people to feel con-

American Cancer Society hosts Relay For Life

There's no finish line until we have a cure." Sleeping bags, sneakers and cancer education? It must be the American Cancer Society Relay For Life, an overnight event to celebrate survivorship and raise funds for cancer research, education, advocacy and services, presented by Abbott Laboratories.

Weiss Field in Waukegan will be the location for the 3rd Annual Relay For Life of Greater Waukegan, and the dates for the event are June 22 and 23.

The Cancer Survivors Walk kicks off the celebration to celebrate life. Later in the evening, a Luminaria Ceremony honors those who are battling cancer and remembers those who have lost their fight.

Relay For Life is a community-based event that brings together teams of families and friends from local businesses, schools, churches, clubs and organizations to go around a track in relay fashion. The night is filled with live music, entertainment, education and other activities.

Last year, the 2001 Relay For Life of Greater Waukegan, which includes Waukegan, Gurnee, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Beach Park and North Chicago, had 39 teams and raised over $72,000 for the fight against cancer. This year, the goal is 60 teams and $95,000.

Early bird registration is available for only $25, so make sure you hurry and get your team signed up for the 3rd Annual 2002 Greater Waukegan Relay. Teams can register by calling the American Cancer Society's office at 847-432-0577.

The American Cancer Society is the nationwide voluntary health agency dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives from cancer and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education and services.

For more information, call 800-ACS-2345 or visit the web site at www.cancer.org.

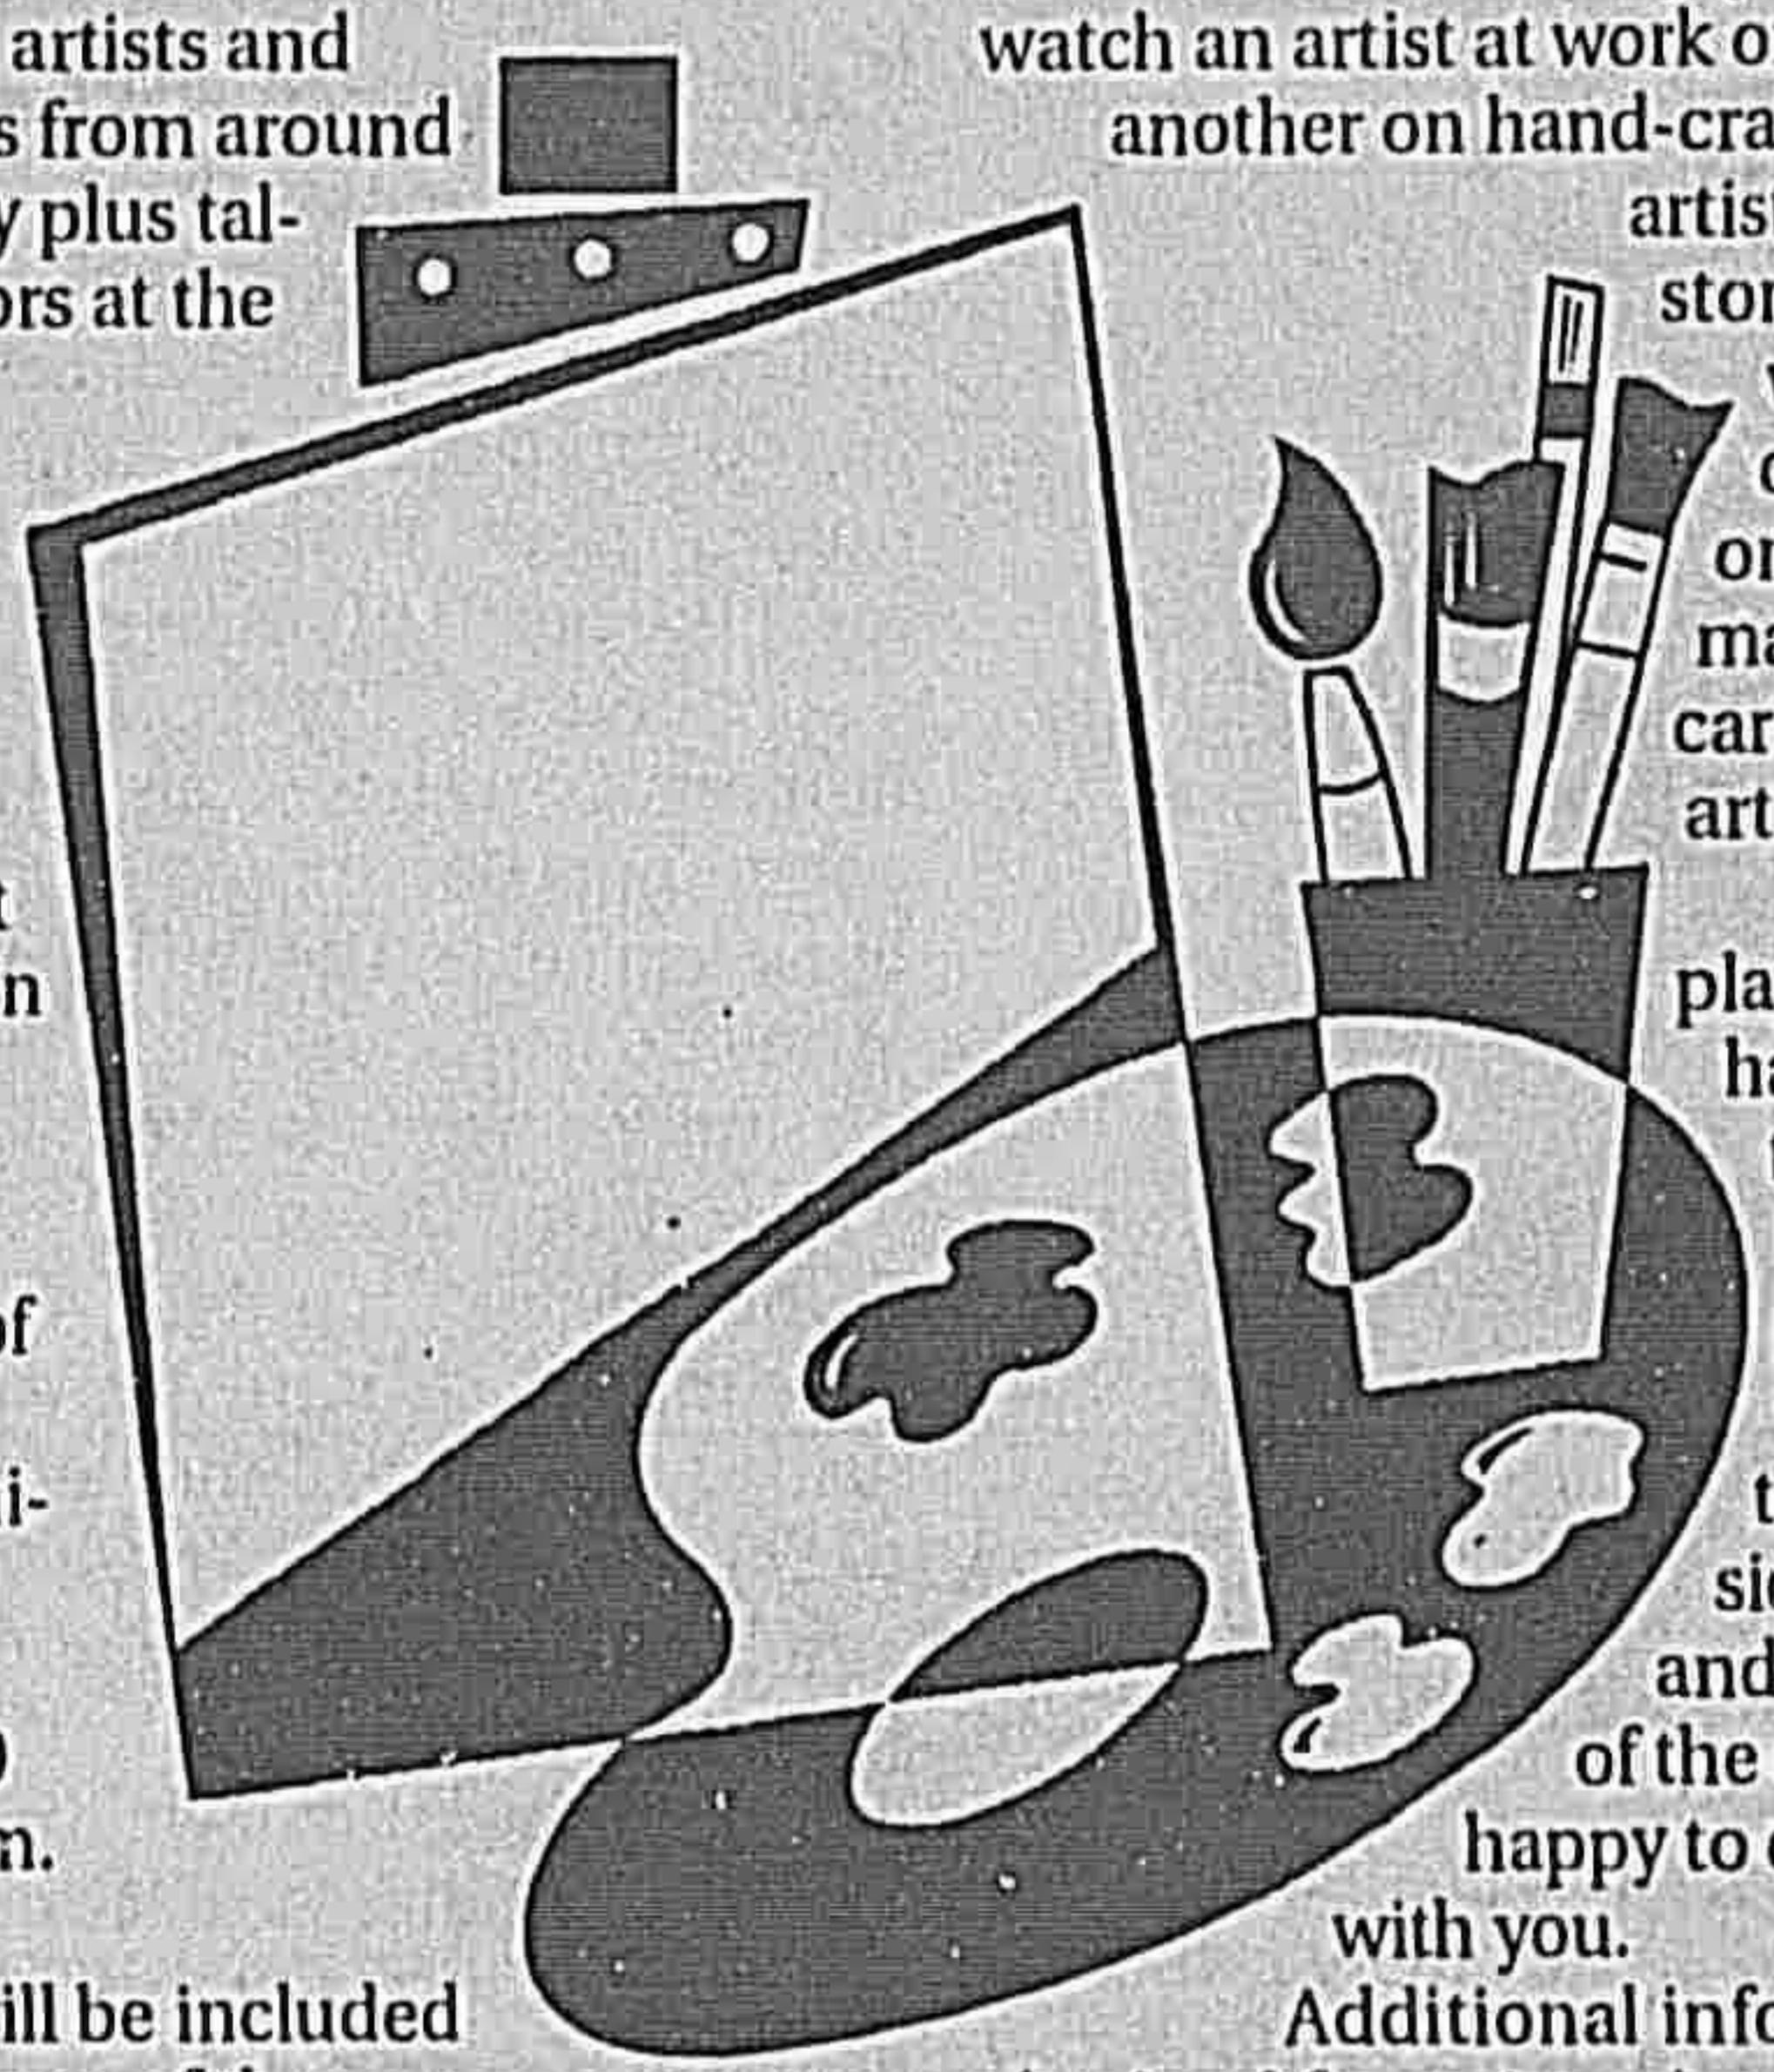

Michigan Avenue Art Show

Experience the work of talented artists and craftspeople from around the country plus talented area exhibitors at the annual Michigan Avenue Arts & Crafts Experience to be held this year at Plaza of Americas, 420 N. Michigan Ave. (just north of the river) in Chicago. This fine juried event, to be presented by American Society of Artists, a national membership organization, will be held Friday through Sunday, June 28-30 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day.

Art In Action will be included in the show with some of the exhibitors working/demonstrating during the show. You will enjoy the opportunity to watch an artist at work on watercolors, another on hand-crafted jewelry, an artist who works with stone colors, one who will be painting in oils, another working on lino cuts or you may prefer to have a caricature seated by artist Dorinda Hoke. Other work on display will include hand-crafted wood toys, sculpture, photography, stained glass, pressed floral works, pottery, portrait works, dimensional mixed media, and much more. Each of the exhibitors will be happy to discuss their work with you.

Additional information may be obtained from American Society of Artists at 312-751-2500.

Fabulous Female weekend at Pops

Two fabulous females will bring their unique sounds to Pops Highwood, 214 Green Bay Rd. in Highwood, on Saturday, June 22. Sharon Lewis and the Mojo Kings will perform on the smoke-free jazz side while Patty Elvis will be on the bar side; both from 8:30-12:30 p.m.

Sharon Lewis is nationally known as a leading lady on the blues scene having performed in The Czech Republic, Germany, Luxembourg, France, Holland and Belgium. Lewis and her band performs at many venues in the Chicagoland area. They are one of few bands to include a Hammond keyboard in their sound. Dave Rice, keyboard player, is said to be one of the best Hammond men in Chicago.

Patty Elvis is no stranger to Pops, having "brought down the house" many times. Not your typical impersonator, Patty Elvis is a 5-foot 4-inch, 110-pound woman who gets crowds on their feet with smoldering renditions of faves such as "Burning Love" and "Jailhouse Rock." So put on your blue suede shoes and dance with Patty on the bar side at Pops.

Cover is $8 at the door. Pops Highwood bar area is open from 5 p.m.-1 a.m., Monday through Saturday, with live music. The jazz club is open from 7 p.m.-2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays with live music and dancing in a smoke-free environment.

Enjoying the sun...safely

The onset of summer vacations means that millions of American families will be on the beaches, in the woods or at the parks.

Environmental protection is very much about balance and moderation. We use insecticides to keep away the mosquitoes, but we try to be careful to not over use them. We use fertilizers on our lawns and gardens, but try to moderate their use.

We need to use the same care when it comes to exposure to the sun. If exposure is kept in balance and moderation, there's usually no problem.

Here's what parents can do:

Limit the time in the midday sun. Help your kids find another activity, indoors or in the shade, during the midday when the sun's rays are the strongest.

Always wear sunscreen with an SPF of 15, or higher. Modern sunscreens aren't greasy and stand up well to athletics. They should be reapplied every few hours to ensure their effectiveness.

Wear a hat and loose-fitting clothes. Covering up with loose-fitting clothes means that you can keep your skin out of the sun's rays without keeping yourself out of the sun.

Wear sunglasses with UV-blocking lenses. Sunglasses that block UV rays will reduce tremendously the exposure that is related to cataracts and other eye problems.

One of the healthiest things parents can do in the summer environment is to follow these steps and teach them to our children.

'Send Me No Flowers' at Timber Lake Playhouse

Come Take the Journey" as Timber Lake Playhouse, 8215 Black Oak Rd. in Mt. Carroll, and artistic director Brad Lyons return you to the care-free days of the early 1950s when they present "Send Me No Flowers." The basis for the classic Rock Hudson/Doris Day film, this hilarious romantic comedy rolls onto the stage until June 29 at 8 p.m. daily with matinees on Sundays at 2 p.m. There are early evening performances at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 23 and Tuesday, June 25.

Hypochondriac George Kimball over-hears his doctor talking of another man's pending death and mistakes it for his own. In the tradition of "Father Knows Best," George wants to make sure that his wife Judy is taken care of after he is gone. Certain that she will not be able to survive on her own, George pursues a suitable second husband for his "widow" and buys a burial plot for three.

Individual tickets are $13, with special reduced rates of groups of 12 or more. For ticket and more information, call Timber Lake Playhouse at 815-244-2035 or visit the web site at www.timberlakeplayhouse.org.

nected to the land on which they live."

In addition to 32 varieties of fruits and vegetables available, during the appropriate times of the year, Prairie Crossing Farm also keeps about one dozen bee hives for honey and has its own answer to the flats of petunias and geraniums available at chain grocery stores.

"We sell 45 different species of native, northern Illinois plants," said Mike Sands, environmental team leader for the entire Prairie Crossing community. "We can help create gardens with native plants that will bloom year round."

Two favorites are the rain garden and the butterfly garden.

Rain gardens are becoming more popular for their ability to make good use of rainwater runoff, are low maintenance and can grow in a variety of conditions (some even in pooled water) and provide food and shelter for interesting birds and beneficial insects (mosquito eaters).

Uniqueness

Sunset Foods in Libertyville remains a small, family owned business, similar in some ways to the original started in 1937 by John Cortesi and his uncle Adeodata Fontana. At the start, customers were said to have phoned in orders for home delivery. Home delivery is still available within Libertyville and the surrounding communities of Mundelein, Gurnee, Vernon Hills, Grayslake, Lindenhurst, Lake Zurich, Long Grove and Buffalo Grove at a cost dependent on the distance from the store.

The company prides itself in being able to differentiate itself from other grocery chains because of "a neighborly concern for the patronage, comfort and satisfaction of individual customers."

Trader Joes, located in Lake Zurich, is a small, national chain that seeks to cut out the middleman to provide gourmet and specialty items at reasonable prices. The store carries all of the types of items representative of larger chains, but all under its private label.

According to company literature, a "tasting panel" approves everything before it shows up on a shelf.

In keeping these items "special," the company has changed its policy and will no longer work with vendors in creating its private label products that use genetically engineered ingredients. With regard to products currently under production, the corporate memo said, "Our goal for existing private label products is to have all such products reformulated, if necessary, and certified within one year."

"If we build a better mousetrap, shoppers will come," said Tim Barrett, a partner of Great Lakes Principals, whose company has proposed putting a Super Wal-Mart, with a full supermarket, in Antioch. But for some shoppers a better mousetrap isn't necessarily a bigger one, but one that offers things unavailable in a typical large chain type store.

SPECIAL EVENT

'Dance For Life' fights against HIV/AIDS

Chicago's premiere dance companies will combine their talents for the 11th annual "Dance for Life," at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 24, at Navy Pier's Skyline Stage. Proceeds from the performance will benefit the AIDS Foundation of Chicago and the Dance For Life Fund.

Founder Keith Elliot created "Dance for Life" as a means for the dance community to raise funds and awareness of HIV/AIDS, while promoting the art of dance in Chicago. Since the first performance in 1992, "Dance For Life" raised more than $1.7 million.

Special events that lead up to the performance including an exclusive Kick-off party; the eccentric "Dance Divas" show on June 24 that features female impersonators from Chicago's dance community; and "Sure they can dance but they can't sing" on July 22 that tests the vocal talents of Chicago's leading dancers.

Tickets for "Dance For Life" go on sale to the public on June 28 and can be ordered by calling 312-922-5812. Tickets range from $75-$500. Guests can also purchase tickets to the spectacular gala held prior to the performance and to the after the performance. Dean Richards of WGN Radio and Television will host "Dance for Life."

2nd annual Summer Sizzler bash

The Auxiliary Board of Northwestern Memorial Hospital, "Chicago" magazine, and 101.9FM "The MIX" will host the 2nd annual Summer Sizzler fund-raising bash (formerly the Beer 'n' Brat) to benefit the hospital's Bone Marrow Transplant Program. The party will be held on Saturday, June 22, at Wieboldt Hall Courtyard, 339 E. Chicago Avenue, from 6:30-11:30 p.m.

The event's highlights include the introduction of "Chicago" magazine's "hottest singles" as featured in the July 2002 issue. This lively summer outdoor event, hosted by MIX morning show duo Eric & Kathy, continues its tradition with a live band, beer, wine, spirits, fine foods from Chicago restaurants, brats and other barbecue-inspired food.

More than 800 guests attended the event last year, which raised $30,000. This year, party organizers hope to raise $40,000 and draw more than 1,000 guests.

Attendees will have the opportunity to participate in a huge raffle. Attire is casual chic. To purchase tickets ($50 in advance, $65 at the door) call Meredith Mann at 312-926-6360 or visit the web site at www.auxboardevents.com.

AUDITIONS

General Auditions

Auditions will be held by appointment on Sunday, June 23, Monday, June 24 and Tuesday, June 25 from 7-10 p.m. The season includes "A Shayna Maidel" by Barbara Lebow, "Over the River and Through the Woods" by Joe DiPietro, "Run for Your Wife" by Ray Cooney, "A Piece of My Heart" by Shirley Lauro and "Our Lady of the Tortilla" by Luis Santiero.

Various ages and types are strongly encouraged to audition. All roles are available. There is some pay. Please prepare a short monologue and bring a head-shot and resume. Auditions are being held at the Attic Playhouse, 410 Sheridan Rd. in Highwood. For more information, call 847-433-2660.

FESTIVALS

Kraut Fest

The nation's only kraut-eating contest highlights festivities at Cabbage Capital of the World. Festival organizers cook more than 700 pounds of sauerkraut. Adults eat two pounds as fast as they can and kids gobble down one pound as quickly as possible. Each contestant has their own style. Other events include kraut recipes, carnival rides, food, bingo, crafts, live music and games. Entry fee is $1 a person or $5 maximum to the grounds. Kraut Festival is held at Caledonia, Mt. Pleasant Memorial Park, 15 miles northwest of Racine Wis., at the intersection of Hwy. H and K. from June 21-23. For more information call 800-272-2463.

Kitchen gardening

The Chicago Botanic Garden, 1000 Lake Cook Rd. in Glencoe will be holding a Herb Festival. The Fruit & Vegetable Garden will kick off the summer gardening season with this fun and educational event on Saturday, June 22 and Sunday, June 23 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Learn all about the many types of herbs and their uses, plant your own herb and browse an herb marketplace. For more information call 847-835-5440 or visit the web site at www.chicagobotanic.org.

Budding artists

The second annual "Artists on the Bluff" Art Festival will be held on June 22 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and June 23 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. around the gazebo in Lake Bluff, Rte. 176 and Sheridan Road.

This is a tented art show of paintings, sculpture, pottery, live music and poetry readings of over 60 artists who are dedicated to bring the arts to Lake Bluff and surrounding communities. A children's tent for the young budding artists will be provided and they can have their faces painted. For more information call 847-244-0769.

FAMILY FUN

Festival of Fine Craft eases cravings

Craving craft? Want the finest quality handmade sculpture or artwear? Feast your eyes on the finest craft this summer during the fifth annual Highland Park Festival of Fine Craft held Saturday and Sunday, June 22 and 23 in downtown Highland Park, running each day from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. This Festival is free and open to the public and will showcase 130 craft artists from across the country on Sheridan Road between Central Ave. and Park Ave. The fifth Festival promises to be the finest in the country—the 2001 Festival was named third best outdoor art fair in Illinois by the "ArtFair Sourcebook."

When buying a piece of art glass or one-of-a-kind piece of handmade furniture, you are acquiring an instant heirloom to cherish now and eventually pass on. Artists represent every craft niche, 30 states and one intrepid artisan will be coming from the UK.

This event supports the educational programs of the Suburban Fine Arts Center, a not-for-profit arts organization which has for 42 years provided art classes and exhibits for adults and children. In keeping with the SFAC philosophy, the Festival also will feature hands-on art activities for kids at the Creation Station, performance art and a variety of music and food.

This event is co-sponsored by Highland Park Chamber of Commerce and the Highland Park Cultural Arts Commission.

For more information, please call 847-432-1888.

Barn Registration Certificate makes perfect gift

The McHenry County Historical Society wants to trigger a renewed interest in its ongoing Barn Registration Program. Since 1999 the Society has been working to document county barns by providing a registration form for applicants to fill out and return to the Society. The form asks for information on history, dimensions, styling, age, construction methods and use of each barn submitted. This information is preserved to the Historical Society's local history library to be made available for research on the county's long agricultural past.

While there is no cost to register a barn, there is a $5 processing fee for anyone wishing a numbered framable certificate returned to them. Between July of last year and June of this year, thirteen new barn registrations were submitted to the Society.

Barns are disappearing at an alarming rate. It may be that documentation will be the only record of these remarkable structures. For those who are also barn owners, the barn registration certificate might be the perfect gift.

Contact the McHenry County Historical Society at 815-923-2267 for further information and/or a barn registration form.

Lekspel to play at Bishop Hill Midsommar Music Festival

Scandinavian music by the Milwaukee-based group Lekspel will be featured at the Bishop Hill Music Festival on Saturday, June 22. Lekspel begins the traditional Swedish Midsommar part of the day at 4 p.m. with a procession from the Village Park to the Old Colony School. Activities at the school include children's games, Swedish music, and at 5 p.m., decorating the Maypole and Swedish dances.

The origin of the group's name Lekspel originates from the first letters of names of several of its musicians. Lekspel consists of Lisa Grace Horngren-Nyckelarpa, fiddle and mandolin; Erik Anderson, accordian; Kent Kelly, fiddle; Mary Stetson, fiddle; and Paul Grevsmuehl, guitar. "Our repertoire includes a unique variety of tunes from different provinces of Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Finland," Horngren said.

Horngren mentioned that the vals, schottis, and hambo make up the core dances of a gammaldans (old traditional dance) set. Also thrown in for good measure will be polkett, sonderhonings, mazurkas, ganglats and reinlenders. "Music played in Bishop Hill around the Maypole will include 'Ringlekar.' These are special little tunes that are sung and danced around the summer Maypole and Christmas tree."

The Bishop Hill Midsommar Music Festival begins with live music at 10 a.m. The main stage lineup includes The Teter Patch String Band, Lee Murdock, The Stay Tuned String Band, Mark Dvorak, Hammer and Pick, and Morningstar.

In the afternoon, several musicians will offer workshops at which visitors can hone their musical skills, learn new tunes and ideas, or just listen and enjoy.

After the Maypole activities, there will be an Old-Time Barn Dance with live music by the Tater Patch String Band. The dance will be held at the Old Colony School (wood floor, air-conditioned) beginning at 7 p.m.

Be sure to come out early with the family and spend the day and evening for this unique event!

The festival is sponsored, in part, by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency. Local organizations and businesses also sponsor the event.

For more information, call Mike Wendel at 309-927-3899.

Nurses needed for MDA summer camp

The Muscular Dystrophy Association sponsors a summer camp program for children and young adults disabled by 43 neuromuscular diseases. Each young camper in attendance is assisted by a volunteer throughout the camp week. Together they can experience all areas of camp — fishing, swimming, boating, horseback riding, sports and many other activities.

Throughout the camp week, a physician and nurses supervise the medical well being of the campers and volunteers in attendance. The health team insures the campers are medically capable of enjoying all areas of camp.

Nurses are desperately needed to participate in the upcoming camp programs. The two camp sessions will be held in Lake County from July 6 through July 13 and July 13 through July 20. Interested volunteers should contact MDA at 312-254-0632.

The MDA summer camp is provided by the Muscular Dystrophy Association Service Program to all age appropriate youngsters who are registered with MDA.

There is no cost to the camper or their family. All expenses are covered by the local MDA chapter.

For more information or to volunteer, call MDA today at 312-254-0632.

A code never broken

Nicolas Cage (right) as Joe Enders and Adam Beach as code-talker Ben Yahzee in an epic drama "Windtalkers." —Photo By Stephen Vaughan

Action explodes off the screen in this story of World War II Marine Corps Navajo code talkers and the Marines assigned to protect them. A surprisingly intimate portrayal of war amidst the firepower and close hand to hand combat.

About 400 Navajo Marines were eventually assigned as code talkers in the Pacific Arena during WWII. Based on the Navajo language, this code was the only one never broken by the Japanese, and is credited with being indispensable in winning the war. "Windtalkers" is the story of four men who meet on the battlefield and change each other's lives forever.

The solemnity of Navajo land, where Ben Yahzee (Adam Beach) says goodbye to his family, gives way to close hand to hand combat.

fering a blow to his head, which severely damages his ear and impairs his hearing.

A shell-shocked Enders recuperates at the hospital, cared for by Rita (Frances O'Connor), a nurse. O'Connor's efforts seem wasted here, both in the role and on Enders. Even though he's an emotional and physical wreck, Enders is anxious to get back to the front lines, perhaps to assuage his guilt for having lived.

Yahzee and Charlie Whitehorse (Roger Willie) train to use their Navajo language as code for communication between units on the battlefield to transmit coordinates, troop movement, whatever information is needed but must not be known by the Japanese. Whitehorse says that among the Navajo they are called "windtalkers."

Enders is ordered to the Island of Saipan, on special assignment to guard the code talker assigned to him, Yahzee. He's to keep Yahzee safe, but if they are in danger of capture, he is to "protect the code, at all costs." The orders are clear, Yahzee must not be taken alive.

Ben meets Ox Anderson

(Christian Slater) on Saipan, a friendly openhearted guy who has the same assignment as Ben. His partner is Whitehorse. The four men come together, with only Enders and Anderson knowing the complete truth of the mission.

What leaps off the screen next is relentless, horrifying warfare. Sometimes the battle is up close with enemies spilling blood in the same ditch. Sometimes bodies are blown apart in a minefield.

A strong supporting cast rounds out the unit, notably Noah Emmerich as Chick, a "good ol' boy" Texan, with a racist streak, who says he can't tell the Indians from the Japanese. His attitude was shared by a number of soldiers, which was another reason to have the code talkers protected, to keep them from what is now called "friendly fire."

John Woo has created a battle zone, both within his characters and the world outside of them. Bombastic sound and the feel of real life make this an exciting film to watch. Within the din of war it is possible to experience a sudden, almost peaceful calm.

To get respect you must give respect

Think of all the bad boys in the NBA who display their best on court performance in conjunction with their worst behavior off the court and you have Jamal Jeffries (Miguel A. Nunez Jr.) of the UBA (United Basketball Association). Jamal is a defensive player and offensive star whose ego and acting out get him booted out of the league.

Jamal's fall from grace is faster than a speeding bullet as he loses his agent Lorne (Kevin Pollak), because his rich endorsement contracts evaporate when his corporate sponsors implement the morals clause. When Jamal goes before the UBA executive board, he's anything but remorseful for his mooning incident and his temporary suspension becomes permanent. In short order, big time partying with his girlfriend Tina ('Lil Kim) goes away after he declares bankruptcy. With no house, no woman and no agent, he goes home to his Aunt Ruby, who punctuates the movie with a funny edge with a moral focus.

Jamal has no respect for women in general and in particular no regard for the Women's UBA (WUBA). After seeing a young girl stroke the ball with finesse on a playground court, he's apt to change his mind. He does decide to change his looks as he plays cards with Aunt Ruby and her running buddies. Jamal goes from someone who "could" look like a woman to one who "does" look like a woman. He Jamal tries out for the Charlotte Banshees, whose star player is Michelle (Vivica A. Fox) and they soon are doing a Shaq/Kobe thing. Sparks fly at first, then they become each other's new best friends. Jamal's WUBA name is Juwanna Mann and as expected, the team makes the playoffs with a turnaround like this year's New Jersey Nets with Jason Kidd.

To the extent there is some Jamal in each of us, Juwanna may help show us the way. This film won't be on the tip of your tongue at Oscar time but it may have more meaning to real life than many of those movies that are on the receiving end of the awards.

Opening this Week

Lilo & Stitch A lonely Hawaiian girl adopts a stranded pet, which turns out to be an extraterrestrial experiment on the lam from his creators. An animated feature.

Minority Report Starring Tom Cruise as a futuristic detective, this sci-fi thriller is based on a story by famed science fiction writer Philip K. Dick. Set in Washington, DC in 2054, where police utilize a psychic technology to arrest and convict murderers before they commit their crime. Cruise plays the head of this Precrime Unit and is himself accused of the future murder of a man he hasn't even met.

Murderous Maids (Music Box) A fascinating story based upon two maids convicted of killing members of the household in which they worked.

Still Playing

The Believer (Renaissance Highland Park) A daring and provocative portrayal of a young Jewish boy who grew up to become a neo-Nazi.

The Bourne Identity 1/2 A man is discovered floating face up on the sea in a driving rain and is rescued by the crew of an Italian fishing boat. He's nearly dead, has no identity and is affected with amnesia. The more he learns about himself, the less he likes.

Divine Secrets of the Ya-Ya Sisterhood A "chick flick comedy" that stars Sandra Bullock, Ellen Burstyn and Ashley Judd. When Bullock is about to be married, she does not invite Mom (Burstyn) to the wedding. A dialogue opens up after Bullock learns about her family history.

The Human Body (Museum of Science & Industry): IMAX takes MAX to the mini by using the latest in technology to travel inside our body. Only thru June 30.

The Sum of All Fears Terrorists try to manipulate the United States and Russia into a nuclear shooting war. They will then come in and pick up the pieces from the two decimated, former superpowers and establish themselves as new world leaders.

Volunteer at Great Lakes Naval Hospital
Red Cross seeking individuals

A familiar face to many at Great Lakes Naval Hospital, Tom Schmit is not a doctor or a patient. Tom is a volunteer with the American Red Cross of Greater Chicago at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital, visiting and helping the troops twice a week.

Tom works at keeping things running smoothly at the hospital, pitching in to maintain the mess hall and galley. When needed, he also helps clear the backlog of work for Red Cross personnel on the base.

"My reward comes from talking with the medical students at the hospital and added perks like sitting in on military functions that few civilians get to see," Tom said of his work as a Red Cross volunteer at Great Lakes Naval Hospital.

Red Cross volunteers are always needed at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital. Volunteers partner with the staff at the hospital to provide administrative and clerical support during the week in the medical ward, library, pharmacy, emergency room and fitness center.

Two volunteer managerial positions are also available to assist Red Cross staff oversee the, naval hospital volunteer program. To apply for these opportunities, contact Rosalind Neal at 847-688-4990 or e-mail at nealr@usa.redcross.org.

Opportunities also exist for medical professionals interested in volunteering for direct care. Direct care volunteers are required to complete an additional credential process.

The American Red Cross of Greater Chicago stands ready to provide community disaster preparedness and relief, assistance to military families, international services, and safety and health education around the clock, every day of the year. Learn more about Red Cross at www.chicagored-cross.org.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES – March 21/April 20

When offered a choice, go for the very best, Aries. There is no use skimping on the things you really want. You're invincible this week so make your mark at work.

TAURUS – April 21/May 21

The hardest worker is often the one who is least recognized, Taurus. Don't get discouraged by those who hog the spotlight. Higher-ups know how reliable and efficient you are.

GEMINI – May 22/June 21

If you want results you know directly where to get them, Gemini. You have a large and effective network of influential people. Spread your wealth and help others advance as well.

CANCER – June 22/July 22

The good times seem to be over but they're not, Cancer. Don't be overly dramatic. The situation feels much worse than it really is. Financial stability arrives on Wednesday. Enjoy it by treating yourself to a little gift.

LEO – July 23/August 23

You see the goodness and potential in everyone, Leo, which is making your role as manager more difficult. You'll need to decide who to promote because you can't promote them all.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

A surprise will shake things up this week, Virgo.

Keep an open mind about the situation rather than sinking into negative thinking. Romance is put on hold.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

When an important project pops up midweek, Libra, all you can do is your best. Keep your eyes on the goal and don't let nerves get the best of you or it could mean trouble.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

Put your complex brain to use instead of dreaming the day away, Scorpio. You have so much to do and watching the clouds go by won't help. Ask Taurus for help.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

Your life gets stirred into a romantic whirl. Romance and enjoyment is your top priority, as all other responsibilities take a back seat. Enjoy these moments while they last — because they're disappearing soon.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

Withdraw from public life to handle a personal problem this week, Capricorn. Family concerns may be a problem for you if you're putting too much emphasis on your career. Take a step back.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Febr 18

Yesterday's concerns are far behind you this week, Aquarius. You are now marching to the beat of a different drummer with a livelier step. This good fortune sticks around.

PISCES – Feb 19/March 20

Simple pleasures help you to relax this week, Pisces, when the stress is high. Everyone is looking to you for answers — some that you may not have. Stick with it, you'll pull through.

Summer adventures for kids

Summer is here! What is a mother to do? Take the children to one of the parks in town, go on a picnic, or swim at the pool? Surely, those are always fun things to do! In addition, there are many other adventures in store for kids in the Antioch area.

Reading Road Trip, USA

"It's not too late to sign up for the summer reading program," says Joan Padbury, the children's librarian at the Antioch Public Library. Sign-up for children ages three to twelve has been extended to the beginning of July. Each child with the help of mom sets a goal for the number of books they will read per week. Halfway through the program the child receives a prize for meeting his or her goal. A bag of prizes will be awarded to each child completing their goal at the end of the program.

Joan Padbury remarked, "Many special performances are planned only for children enrolled in the summer reading program." John Measner's Magic Show will be held Tuesday, June 25th at 2 p.m. The Amazing Invisible Jitterbug Band by Kathleen Gibson is on the agenda for Tuesday, July 2 at 2 p.m. A Dinosaur Discovery Show is planned for Wednesday, July 10th. Chris Pascione will be juggling funny stories on Thursday, July 18th. Don't miss Bobby Hunt, Circus Boy on Friday, July 26th! The final reading program performance "Don't Just Sit There" by Rick Kelley will be held on Monday July 29.

Another exciting event is scheduled after the reading program is over. The Zoological Society of Milwaukee will be presenting Roundy's Pick 'N Save "Care for Critters, Animals of the Rain Forest." This performance takes place on Thursday, Aug. 15 at 12:30 p.m. at the pavilion.

Creation 4-kids

A special one-day event for children age three through sixth grade is planned for Saturday, July 20 from 1:30-7 p.m. This fun-filled day of activities includes hearing the creation account, songs, crafts, games, a movie, and something to eat! It will be held at Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church on Route 83 just south of Route 173. Registration begins June 23-July 10. Call 847-395-1660 for more information and to register.

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

Brave believers

Extreme faith stories will be told to preschool through sixth grade children at the St. Stephen's Lutheran Church Vacation Bible School. The "Brave Believers" program will be held from 9:00 AM until 11:30 AM, Monday-Friday, Aug. 5-9. For more information call 847-395-3359

Celebrate America 2002

An event for the whole family honoring the military and the heroes of Sept. 11 will be held on Saturday June 29 at 3:30 and 7 p.m. and on Sunday June 30 at 10 a.m. at the First Assembly of God on Highway 50 in Kenosha. Tickets are free! Ticket entry is required for the Saturday performances only. Call 262-694-3300 for more information. Following each performance teenagers will host an Ice Cream Social.

4th Of July Events

The Independence Day Celebration in Antioch is loaded with activities for the whole family. Events run from 8 a.m. until dusk. A parade at 10 a.m. and a children's fun fair and a space walk opening at 11 a.m. are just a few of the many things planned. Family fun games begin at 3 p.m. Fireworks will close the day of celebration.

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

THE COTTAGES AT VICTORY LAKES IN LINDENHURST

Roy Fagerman goes sole-searching every Tuesday morning.

The Koz can

Even the weather provided a sunny day, a rarity this June. Things must be looking up for Wauconda High's football team's fortunes. Glenn Kozlowski, the former Chicago Bear and Libertyville youth football coach, will do all he can to make sure the Bulldogs become competitive in the North Suburban Conference.

The new WHS gridiron boss brought soon-to-be Hall of Famer Dan Hampton, present Bear cornerback Jerry Azumah, ex-Bear Jim Althoff and an abundance of enthusiasm to a pep rally. Radio station WJMK, Magic 104.3 added to the fun with a live broadcast.

The idea of a former professional athlete helping kids learn the sport hit a home run with all gathered at Wauconda's Jewel-Osco parking lot.

"It is nice. The kids will be able to learn from someone who has done it and learn about teamwork and chemistry from a role model," Azumah said.

Kozlowski has assembled a top-notch coaching staff and has held a mini-camp already.

"It is exciting. We had a mini-camp and the kids are very enthusiastic and play hard. That is what (former coach) Bob Kasper instilled in them. There are some players here. It is up to us as coaches to work with them. This is a very close knit group," Kozlowski said.

The Kozlowski era has already had a team building experience. "At the end of mini-camp, we invited the freshmen and their parents in as well to a barbecue," he said.

John Teichman should know of Kozlowski's better than most at the enthusiastic pep rally, complete with cheerleaders, dance team members and the pom pom squad.

"I have been in youth football for 22 years. He (Kozlowski) will put Wauconda back on the football map. I have known Koz for nine years coaching youth football. He is very patient, analytical. He treats each person equally and instills in players a never-quit attitude. He also could make coaches better. He brought in Jim Morrissey, Vince Tobin, Althoff, Jim Thornton, and Robin Earl, who also coaches in the Libertyville youth system," said Teichman.

Fans came as early as 8:30 a.m., 90 minutes before the start, to have their favorite players sign the backs of their shirts, chairs, footballs, and other items.

"He'll motivate us," said senior-to-be "Mookie" Kroepfl, a wide receiver. "It's pretty good. He does have experience, and he is a great guy."

"We will have blast. He is laid back, but intense. We are all pumped because he knows the game," said Dave Schilf, a senior kicker.

Kozlowski boldly predicted a playoff berth in the near future for the Bulldogs.

Congratulations to Grayslake's Neil Lesinski on winning the 16-year-old singles title at the K-Swiss tennis tournament held at Maine East High School over the weekend. Lesinski, age 15, defeated Alex Menaker of Wilmette 7-6 (7-3), 6-3 in the quarterfinals before ousting Glencoe's John Becker 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 in the semis.

Then, in the championship, Lesinski won a hard-fought 6-2, 7-6 (7-0) battle to win the trophy. Lesinski, who will be a sophomore this fall at Grayslake Community High School, won the 14-year-old singles title last year.

Dolan Challenge more than just golf

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

John Dolan is perhaps looking down with a great sense of pride.

His father Dan and family are making sure of it.

It was in 1992 that little John, just before he was about to turn three, passed away after being paralyzed from the chin down due to a severed spinal cord sustained at birth.

In his honor, father Dan started the John Dolan Golf Challenge in efforts to raise money in his memory. Hosted by the Merit Club in Gurnee since its inception, the Dolan Challenge has generated over $1 million in gross proceeds for the Pediatric Free Care Program and Bill Wirtz Sports Programs at Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago. RIC was very instrumental in the treatment of John Dolan up until his untimely death. An Endowment Fund in memory of John was also established.

"You are the reason the event has continued and hopefully will continue," Dan Dolan told participants during the awards ceremony and reception following the event. "The money we raise is tremendous. But the real issue goes well beyond that. One of our main missions is to help promote awareness and advocacy—people should be aware of the fact that despite someone having a disability, they are just as normal as you or I."

All together, there are over 50 million disabled Americans, clearly representing the largest minority in the country.

"We want to help people achieve a full and successful life after they have suffered a tragedy, and that's where raising the money comes into play," added Dan Dolan. Dolan was also quick to applaud the efforts of Chris Pratt, who has served as co-chair since the Dolan Challenge started eight years ago.

And what an event this has turned out to be, with four able-bodied golfers paired with one disabled golfer.

The Challenge drew 24 foursomes, or 96 players.

Included was Libertyville resident Marty Neal, who in 1979, at the age of 15, got his right arm caught in a meat grinder, resulting in amputation from the elbow down.

You'd never know it, though, because Neal, who pretty much plays golf one-handed, fired a very respectable net 86. That was good second-place among the disabled golfers.

"I actually play better because playing with one hand has gotten me to slow down my swing—my tempo and rhythm are more fluid," said Neal, who runs the Pine Tree Pet Super Center in Libertyville.

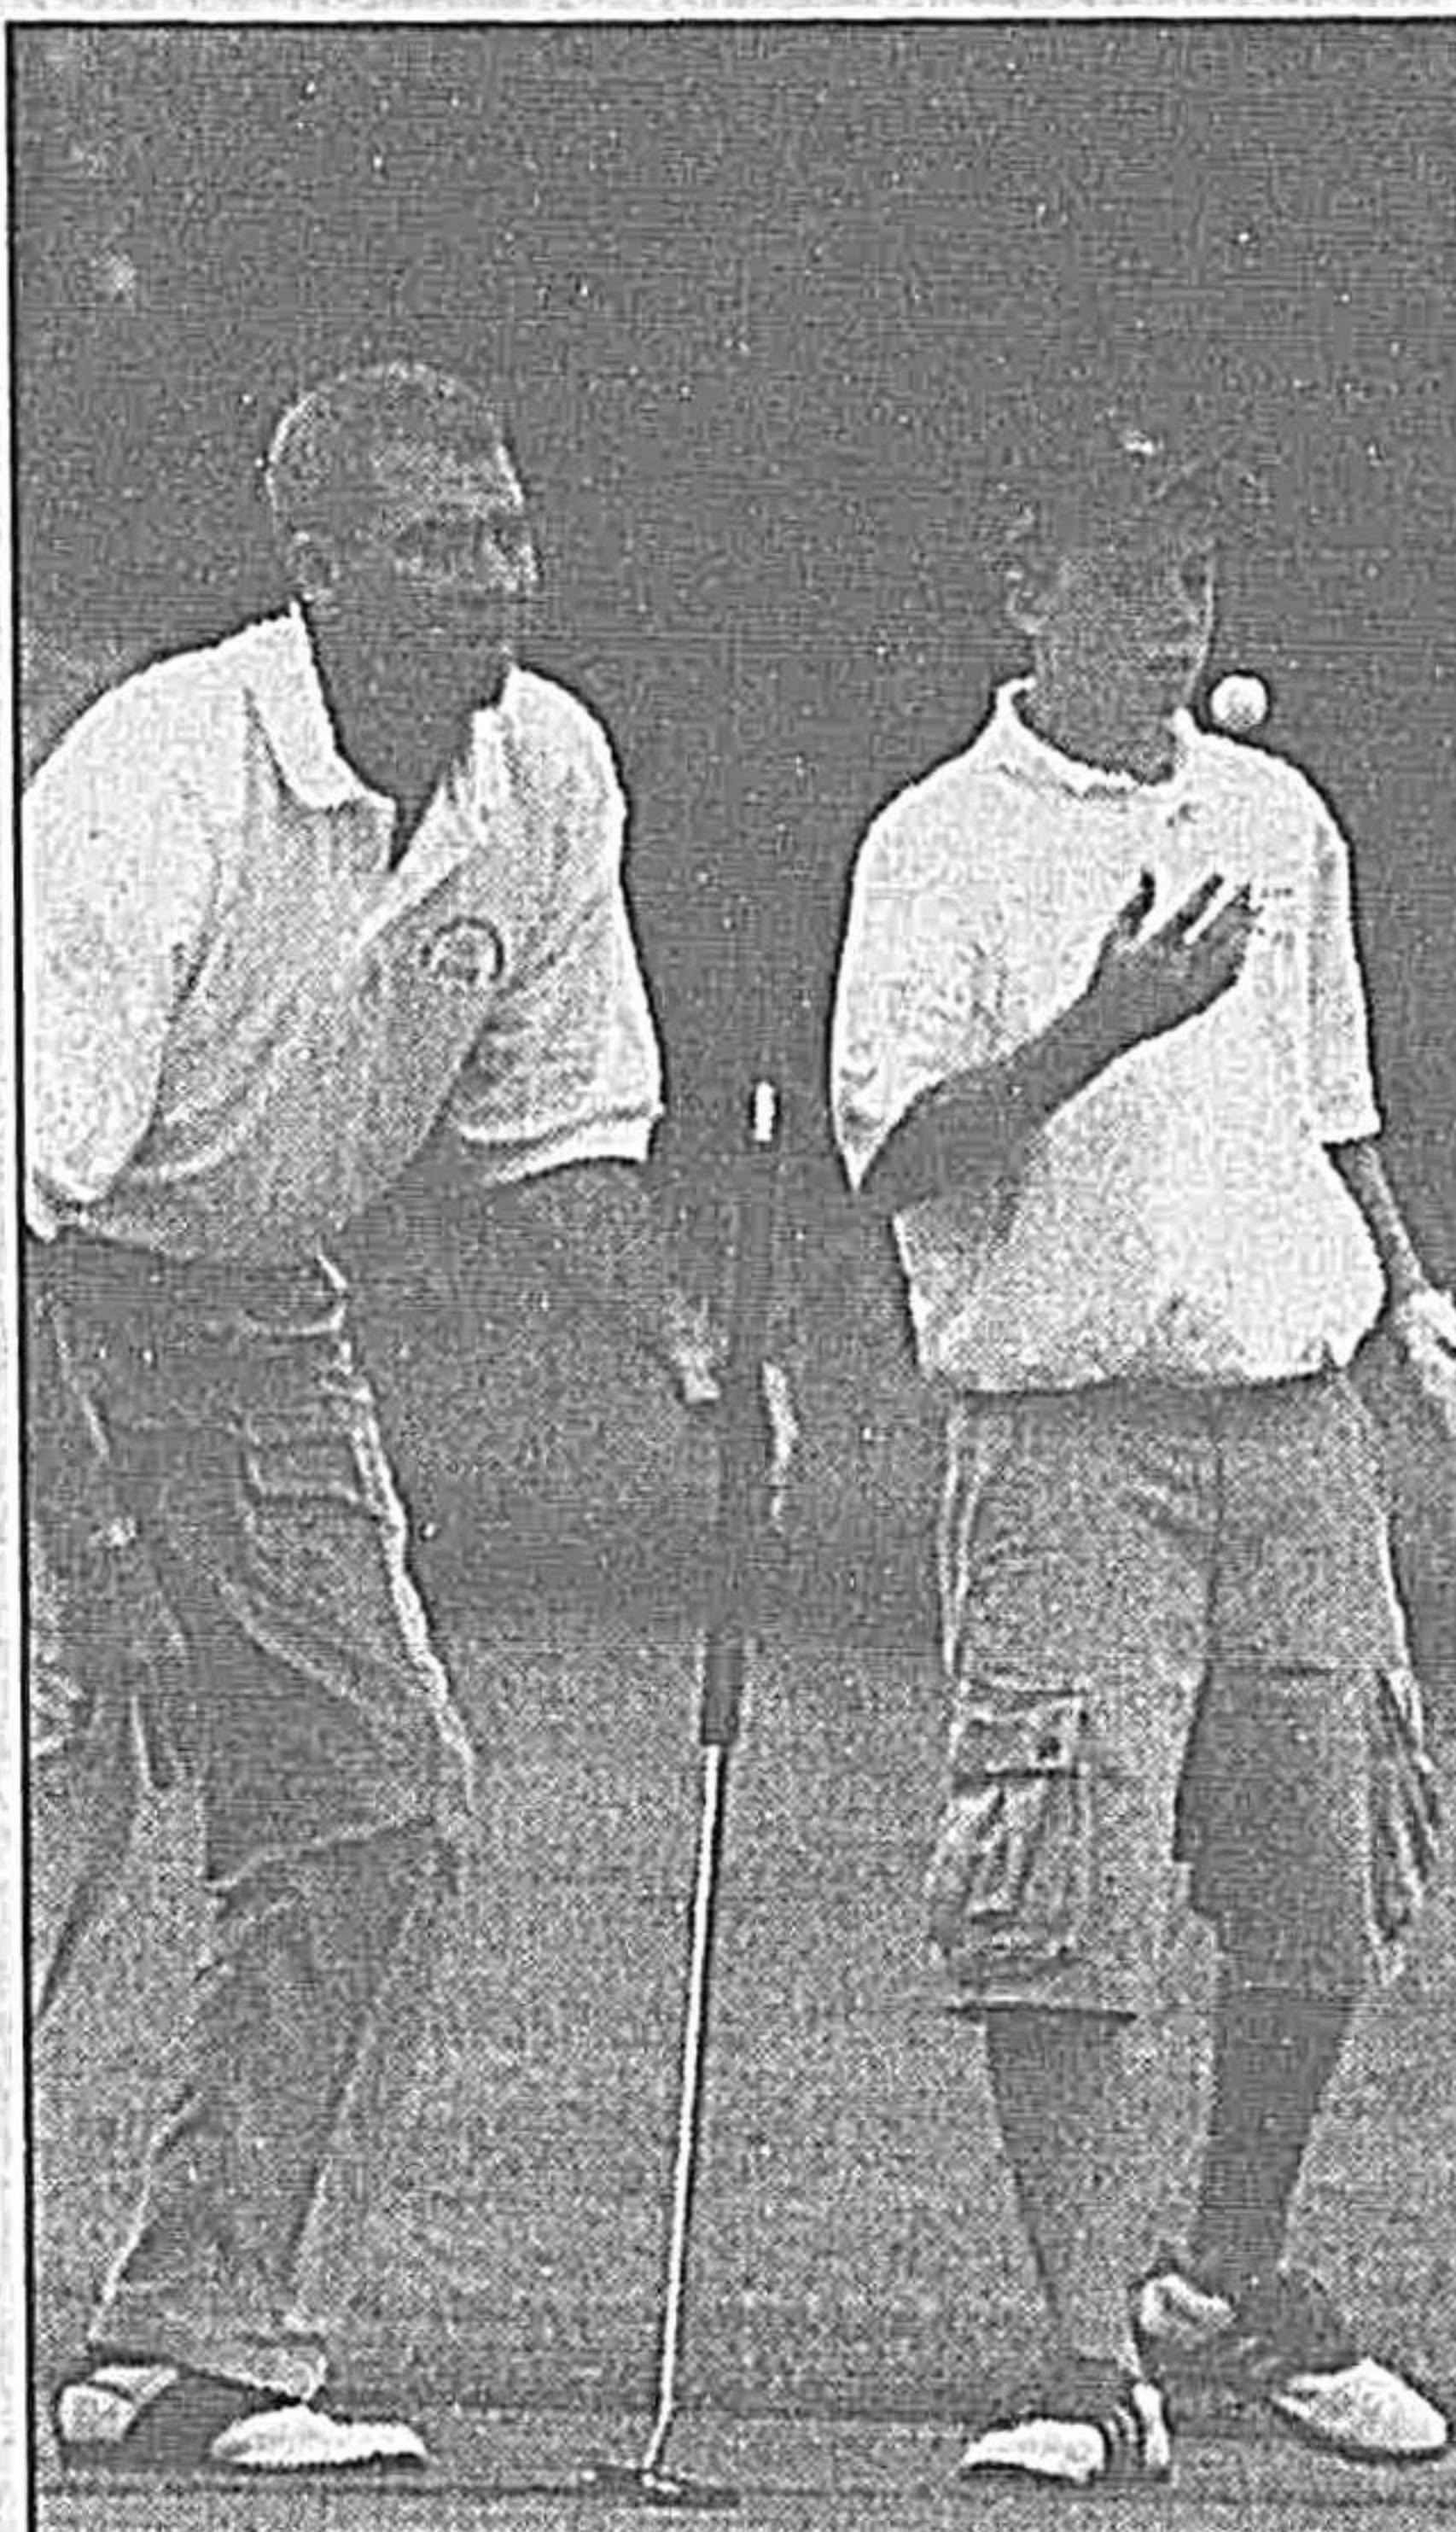

Gary Hooks of Edgewater, Fla. won the Mary Beth Donnelley Spirit Award for having the low round (net 70) in the disabled golfer division. Donnelley, who passed away two years ago, was a fighter and avid golfer. She was also the first RIC board member to play in the Dolan Challenge.

The Who's Who crowd at the Merit Club also included the likes of Franklin Park's Sylvester Flis and Winnetka's Patrick Bryne, both Gold Medal winners for the U.S. sled hockey team at the 2002 Paralympics in Salt Lake City, Utah. Both had suffered amputations to the leg and were treated by RIC as well at St. Luke's in Chicago.

Last year, RIC had over 5,000 patient admissions in addition to over 300,000 outpatient treatments.

"This is a great event for a great cause," said Samantha Caplan, marketing director for RIC. "The camaraderie and mutual respect that was built out there on the golf course was incredible."

Again, John Dolan would be proud.

Juniors get to 'show off' their stuff

By WESLEY WARD
Correspondent

High school baseball players from across Northern Illinois ascended on Stevenson High School last weekend to exhibit their talents in the Northwest Suburban Baseball Tournament.

Eight conferences fielded All-Star teams with players that graduate in 2003. The Junior Showcase attracted college coaches from all over the Midwest, giving players the opportunity to make a name for themselves.

"This was a good opportunity for me to get some exposure and advertise my ability," said Grayslake catcher Scott Wold.

In much the same way the National Basketball Association holds pre-draft camp for eligible college athletes to display their skills, the Junior Showcase enabled next year's senior class to exhibit its talents to college coaches. During the 2-day event, the eight teams each played two games and participated in several drills that highlighted specific skills and positional play.

"I was happy with how I played defensively," said Antioch outfielder Scott Coles. "I made some clean throws and did well in the outfield drills. Offensively you are up against some tough pitchers, but I had a hit yesterday and had some powerful drives today."

C.J. Walleck was the lone representative from Grant, and pitched Sunday for the North Suburban conference.

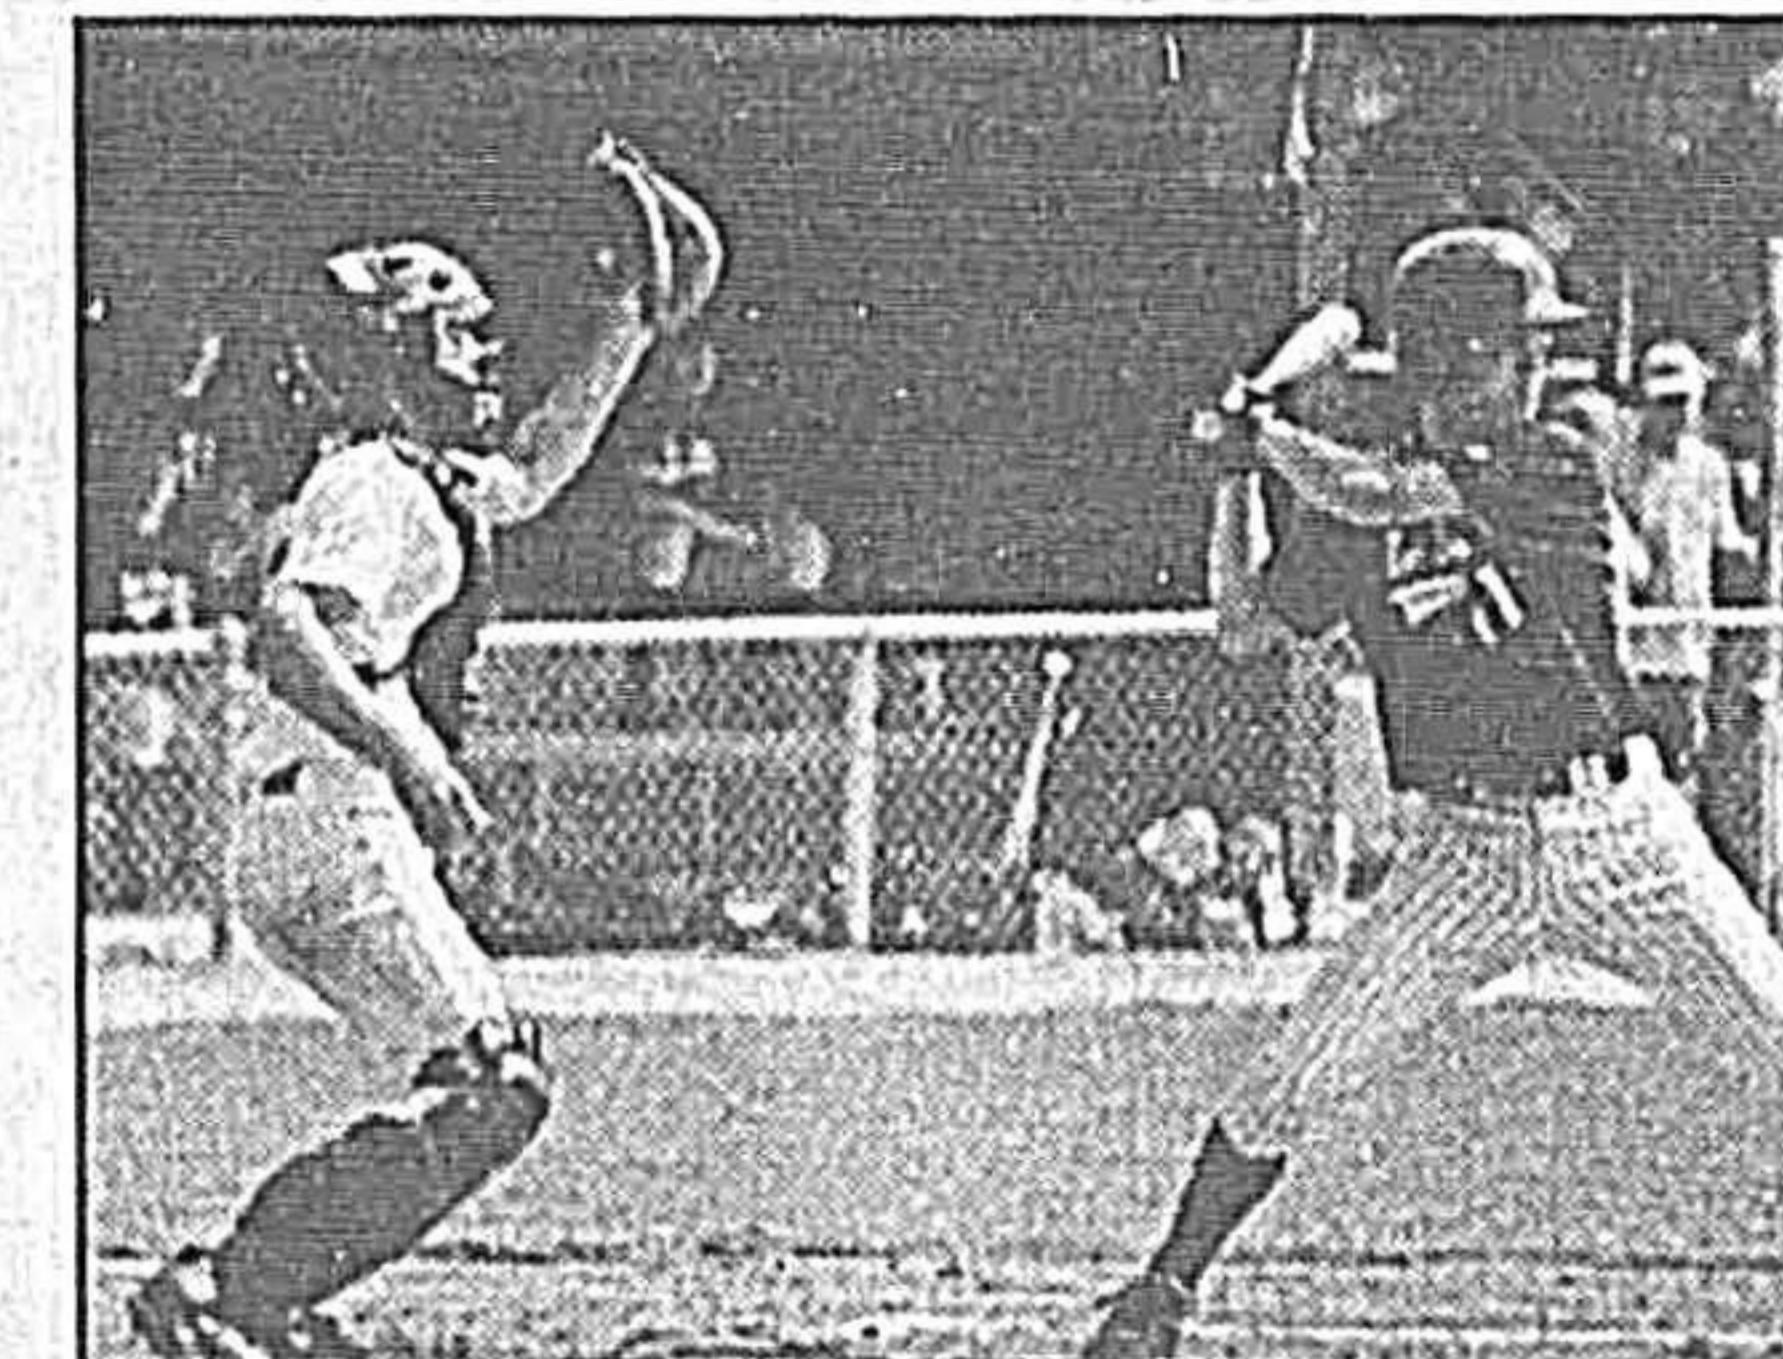

"In the first game, I played a couple of solid innings," said Walleck. "Today, I came out well, but let up a little in my second inning, and in the third I just tried to come back strong."

Wold caught for the Fox Valley Conference and impressed with his throwing ability.

"I played real well in the first game," said Wold. "I was blocking well and making some nice stops. In the second game, the energy wasn't there. I threw a couple of guys out, but I wasn't happy with my blocking."

For most players, the weekend was about trying to show college coaches their talents. The weekend also meant having a little bit of fun, according to Walleck.

"I just wanted to have a good time out there and play hard," said Walleck. "It is not too often you get to play with some of the best players in the area."

However, for those with college baseball aspirations the event was an ideal chance to showcase their ability.

"I want to play college ball and this was a good opportunity for me to get my name out there," said Coles.

With a host of coaches watching with clipboards at the ready, Coles, Walleck and Wold can only hope that their performances this weekend motivated a coach to pencil their name in. All they can do now is wait and see if a coach comes knocking on their door when the signing period re-opens.

Several other top area seniors-to-be participated in the event. They included: outfielder Jesse Cass and catcher Ross Jensen, both from Warren; Coles from Antioch; pitcher Matt Doud, outfielder Jimmy Lewis, shortstop Ben Engstrom, pitcher/catcher Alex Gavlick, all from Libertyville; pitcher/infielder Clay Kovac, pitcher/infielder Mike Nilles and outfielder Nick Yoder from Mundelein; Grayslake's Wold; Grant's Walleck; and, catcher Justin Mooney from Vernon Hills.

Wapon quietly steps down

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Antioch Girls Golf Coach Steve Wapon gave a farewell clinic for golf team members at Spring Valley Golf Course.

"Other than the monsoon season early in the week, we had a pretty good week. We had 16 girls, freshmen to seniors," Wapon said.

After nine years as girls golf head coach, Wapon will not return this fall.

"The 1,800 mile commute was too much," Wapon said.

Wapon retired two years ago from Antioch and now lives in Arizona.

He coached nine years himself for the girl's teams, both underclass and varsity.

"We had some great parents who helped out over the years," Wapon said.

Wapon said his best girls golfer was two-time state qualifier Sarah Groh.

He said that some golfers come to Antioch without much experience, but play catch-up to the competition.

"We have a good returning group this year, with senior Danielle Nielsen, juniors Katie Macomb, Katie Lincoln and sophomore Megan Placko and several freshmen," Wapon said.

Also back will be Renee Ramirez and Katie MacNeish, among others.

No successor has been named, but school officials are interviewing candidates, Wapon said.

Antioch's Alm steps down after 29 great years

Fittingly, ACHS renames golf invitational

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

After 29 years of teaching and coaching at Antioch High School, former boys and girl's golf coach Roger Alm has retired.

Of his 29 years of service at the school, nearly half of them were spent as a head golf coach.

After serving for the U.S. Army from 1966-68, Alm attended the University of Illinois-Chicago, where he graduated with honors before coming to Antioch High School in 1973.

For his time and dedication to his students and athletes at the high school, the Antioch athletic department has decided to rename the annual ACHS Invitational, played at Spring Valley, to the Roger Alm Golf Invitational.

"I thought it was pretty cool," said Alm. "I never expected it, it was a pretty thoughtful thing for the athletic department to do."

Alm, who was forced to give up his coaching job because of sickness in 1998, believes that the best part of coaching was just being around the kids.

"After matches I enjoyed hearing how excited the kids were coming into the clubhouse," he said. "It was really a special time for me."

As much as Alm appreciated his players, it was his players that truly appreciated him.

"I liked the way that he (Alm) always had something good to say," said former Antioch player Mike Baba. "He always tried to understand exactly what you were trying to tell him. He always had time for everyone and everyone's opinions were always important to him."

Even in his last years of coaching the boy's team, Alm always worked at becoming a better coach.

"I did the best I could, I think I was getting better at conveying the golf concepts to the kids," said Alm. "I like kids, I loved them. God has given me a special gift to be with kids and enjoy them."

As for his years as a math teacher at Antioch, Alm believes the people are what he will miss most.

"I will really miss the staff and students," he said. "They were all very supportive of me, I really enjoyed Antioch High School."

White Sox, Bulls training centers coming to area

The Chicago White Sox Training Centers, the official youth baseball and fast-pitch softball camps of the Chicago White Sox, are pleased to announce the kick-off of the 2002 summer camp season.

The White Sox Training Centers provide answers for parents and kids alike searching for fun and active options for memorable summer experiences.

For additional excitement, current and former White Sox players and coaches often make special guest appearances at Training Center camps throughout the summer.

Ray Durham, Keith Foulke, Paul Konerko, Jim Parque, Carlos Lee and Bob Howry all made guest appearances in 2001.

Top collegiate and professional coaches, major league scouts, former major leaguers, full-time private instructors and hand-picked collegiate players instruct camp participants through 17 1/2 hours of fine-tuning fundamentals, learning and improving skills and gaining advanced insight into the game from those who know it best.

Each week long Training Center cost

$169 and runs Monday through Friday for three-and-a-half-hours daily.

Training Centers cover all the basic fundamentals to make sure every young athlete leaves a better player.

Hitting covers lessons in batting stance, bunting, proper swing technique and baserunning, while pitching and fielding cover lessons in position play, throwing mechanics, glove work, ball transfer and other infield and outfield training.

Physical and mental preparation, specific game situation and strategies are also taught. In addition to providing individual instruction, the Training Centers also stress the importance of teamwork.

Every student who completes the program receives a Sox Training Center T-shirts, cap and bat bag, in addition to membership in the Silver and Black Pack, which includes six game tickets and a pre-game parade on the field at Comiskey Park.

Chicago Bulls camp

The Chicago Bulls Basketball School, the official youth basketball camps of the Chicago Bulls, is also pleased to announce the kick-off of the 2002 summer camp season.

Entering their fourth season, the Bulls Basketball School have already instructed more than 10,000 young athletes.

These weeklong, half-day basketball camps will take place in more than 100 communities across the state.

Occasionally, current and former Chicago Bulls players make appearances at the camps.

The goal of the camps is to teach young players the fundamentals of the game in a fun and positive environment.

Boys and girls, ages 6-14, are taught ball handling, shooting, passing, individual offensive moves, defensive moves and rebounding from hand-picked high school, university, college and junior college coaches.

Each week-long camp is $189 and runs Monday through Friday for 3 1/2 hours daily.

Each player received a Chicago Bulls basketball, Chicago Bulls gym bag, T-shirt, reversible practice jersey and a Chicago

Bulls Graduation Certificate.

Young players even have the opportunity to compete in the Fox Sports Net Basketball Skills Competition, with the top boys and girls from each age group advancing to Champions Day on the court at the United Center.

Camp dates and sights

In Grayslake, the White Sox will be at Jaycee Park from July 15-19 and the Bulls will be at Frederick School from July 29-August 2.

In Libertyville, the White Sox will be at Odom Field in Butler Lake Park from July 22-26 while the Bulls will be at the Libertyville Sports Complex from July 22-26.

In Lindenhurst, the Bulls will be at the Health and Fitness Institute from August 12-16.

In Round Lake, the White Sox will be at the Avon Township Baseball Complex from July 8-12.

In Antioch, the White Sox will be at Williams Park from July 15-19 and the Bulls will be at Antioch Upper Grade School from July 22-26.

WARTS

Plantar warts are caused by a virus and are contagious. Warts usually appear as a rapidly growing callus which have a tendency to be very painful and bleed. Treatment for this condition is simple and painless. There are, however, many different ways to treat warts: removing the warts by applying a topical acid, is a common method, removing the warts by CO₂ laser, surgical excision of warts with hyperfication are also common treatment remedies. If you are suffering from this condition or have questions regarding this condition please feel free to call Dr. Lee Tisa for a no cost private consultation to discuss your treatment options.

Less than three months removed from a second and third-place finish at last season's state finals, the Antioch High School dance team has started down the road of a new season.

With new leadership in place and a young and inexperienced team this year, hard work and determination will be key factors in making a return trip to the state finals.

Lauren Popp and Heather Axton were chosen as this year's captains, while Ashley Ginascol and Lindsey Bailey will serve as co-captains.

The four of them will be forced to lead a group of 19 dancers, 12 of which have no varsity experience, towards the team's second state title in four years.

"We have a lot of new people, but they're coming along well," said Bailey. "I think the youth is an advantage because most of the new dancers are coming from dance studios in the area, so they already have good technique and a high skill level."

The team began practicing for the new season on June 6, however, the team was selected shortly after last year's trip to state. "I think this year we have a lot of people that are self-motivated, and that makes it a lot easier to get the ball rolling in the right direction," said Ginascol.

The team will attend their annual pom camp at the end of July at Northern Illinois University. Last year's team took home the Showstopper Award for the outstanding team at the camp. Over 25 teams qualified for the award that was voted on by the participants. Two weeks ago Popp, Ginascol, and Bailey attended the UDA (Universal Dance Association) Leadership Camp, which was also held at NIU. Over 60 participants from numerous schools attended.

The camp consisted of the participants being taught a routine and then being evaluated on their performance. Participants were also taught leadership skills.

"Camp gave us a lot of new ideas to help motivate the team and taught us a lot of the fundamentals of being a good leader," said Bailey.

All three Antioch girls received superior ribbons, which led to the team being awarded a superior trophy for outstanding achievement. They also won a spirit stick, which was given to teams that displayed the most spirit during the camp.

Individually, Ginascol was named one of six All-stars of the camp. With the All-Star status comes the opportunity to go to Paris. Everyone who attended the camp will have the choice of whether or not to perform at the Citrus Bowl and the Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade.

LINDENHURST PARK DISTRICT CAMPS

Camp Funtime

Special Recreation Services of Northern Lake County (SRSNLC) is a cooperative effort between Round Lake, Lindenhurst, Zion and Waukegan Park Districts. SRSNLC provides recreational programs for people who need specialized assistance not provided in regular park district programs. Camp Funtime is fun for the little camper.

Camp activities will be based on thematic units and will include games, sports, crafts, field trips and more. Camp is for ages 3-6 and runs Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Session 2 runs from June 24-July 5 and while session 3 operates from July 8-19. There will be no camp July 4.

The cost of camp is $130 per session, also a $20 non-refundable deposit due at time of registration. There may be an occasional field trip that will be at a nominal cost to parents.

Summer Craft Camp

Don't miss the Summer Craft Camp. Each day create several different items that you can decorate, using many different materials. The camp is offered on Mon., Wed. and Fri. for children ages 6-12 July 15-19 from 3:30-6 p.m. The cost is $49 for residents and $54 for non-residents.

Camp Summertime

Camp Summertime offers sports, arts and crafts, games, swimming, playground activities, science experiment and weekly field trips. Camp location and drop-off is at the Lindenhurst Park District Community Center Gymnasium. Campers should bring with them each day a swimsuit, towel, and sack lunch with a drink, backpack, sunscreen, and water bottle. All sessions must be paid in full at time of registration. There is a $10 discount for each additional child per session. No refund for any session once camp begins. Extended care hours will be offered for children in Camp Summertime; morning care is 7-9 a.m. and afternoon care is from 4-6 p.m. The fee is $51 for residents and $56 for non-residents per session. Camp hours are 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The camp will operate Monday-Friday. Session 2 runs from June 24-July 5, session 3 from July 8-19, and session 4 from July 22-Aug. 4. The camp is for youths in grades 1-6 as of this fall.

County women's amateur July 15

The 31st Annual Lake County Ladies Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament will be held at Highland Park Country Club on Mon., July 15.

Please note that this year's event will not be a shotgun start. Starting times and pairings will be mailed to contestants.

The entry fee for the event is $85, which includes a 2002 LCLGA membership, greens fees, prizes, and lunch. Flight entries close when flights are filled, but a waiting list will be kept. The deadline to enter is July 2. No refunds will be afforded after the close of entries.

Please call 847-295-0411 for an entry form or further information.

At A Glance briefs are excerpts from the top stories in Lakeland's 11 weekly newspapers. For more in-depth coverage on these and other local stories, see our website at www.lakelandmedia.com.

Neighbors saying 'no' to Midlane's expansion

Waukegan—An up-and-coming golf course development in northwest Waukegan is already stirring up local resentment, pitting homeowners and school districts against developers who say the issue is not up for discussion. Residents were at a commission meeting to protest the removal of nine holes of an existing 27-hole golf course at Midlane Country Club for the addition of 409 housing units in the community. Developers say the existing zoning was determined in the original plans in 1989 and does not go against the covenants of the present homeowner's associations.

Baseball team buys police a defibrillator

Gurnee—Twelve youngsters from the Gurnee Patriots youth baseball team have donated $1,500 to the Gurnee Police Department for the purchase of an Automated Electronic Defibrillator (AED). A 12-year-old Deerfield boy was hit in the chest during a game last year and a defibrillator in a squad car revived the boy at the scene.

Big Hollow rate hike back on ballot

Ingleside—Big Hollow Dist. 38 will be back on the ballot with a referendum request in November. The school board voted to approve seeking a 49-cent per $100 of assessed valuation increase on the Nov. 5 ballot. Voters soundly rejected a 74-cent increase in the education fund attempt in March. The March vote was 1,008-486 against an increase.

Movie shoots on location here

Lake County—Gateway Productions, an independent film company, shot scenes for a short version of a feature film called "The Only Boy in New York," using locations in Lake Villa, Libertyville and Mundelein. The film is to be entered in the Sundance Film Festival. The movie's co-producer Greg Huster, now living in California, is a graduate of Carmel High School.

Bus driver charged in collision, kids hurt

Libertyville—A collision between a school bus carrying elementary school children and a passenger car on Monday resulted in the bus driver and seven students from District 70 being transported to Condell Medical Center. The crash occurred at approximately 5:15 p.m. at the intersection of Winchester and Butterfield roads. Area fire departments transported victims—none seriously injured—to Condell. Police charged the bus driver, Ronald A. Mora, of Ingleside, with failure to yield at an intersection.

Kids forget their scars, meet some new friends

All they want is to be treated as "normal."

At least one week a year, almost 100 children—each victims of a fire—get their wish at Camp Duncan in Ingleside, which hosts a camp for them.

Camp Duncan has been helping burn victims for 12 years. The burn camp is sponsored by the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance (IFSA). Kathy Haage, burn camp chairperson, was one of the original members who created the concept 15 years ago.

This week, the camp treated 91 kids to a week of fun, fishing boating and horseback riding.

"The best burn camp is one that would never happen," said Libertyville Fire Marshal Bob Kleinheinz, who has come to the camp for 10 years. "But because there is, it's the greatest thing we can do for them. You see them have so much fun and think to yourself how lucky you are."

Derl Sarby echoed those sentiments. Sarby, assistant Libertyville Fire Marshal just enjoys seeing the kids smile. "You see how much pain a kid can take," he said. "And you are just in awe."

But the scars of the past are not what children like Trevor McCasland, 9, of Gurnee; Rosalina Carmona, 8, of Waukegan and Shantily Dixon, 10, of Waukegan—three of the six Lake County children at the camp this year—are thinking about.

"I got a date for the dance tomorrow," Shantily said. "I'm really excited."

"I love fishing and eating fish," Shantily added. Trevor said he likes all of the activities at the camp. Rosalina is just a waif with an infec-

Seniors Day sees Wauconda centenarian named as queen

Rocky and Cheryl Taormina wished to give Jessie Cymanowski a special way to celebrate Cymanowski's 100th birthday.

"We wrote a letter to the Lake County Forest Preserve District, about how we wanted to celebrate grandma's 100th in a special way," said Cheryl Taormina.

Cymanowski, who turns 100 on June 23, was thrilled with the fact that the Lake County Forest Preserve honored her as a queen at its annual Seniors Day. Also honored as Royalty were Jerry Stoller of Long Grove and Matt Mihalic of Waukegan as kings and Sophie Hansen as another queen.

"I wish I could still dance," Cymanowski said as she prepared to be crowned queen on the dance "floor."

Ameritech urges county's support of DSL service

By KRISTINA ANDERSON
Staff Reporter

With high-speed Internet access increasingly becoming a hot, high-demand commodity for businesses and homes alike, it's no wonder Lake County residents are champing at the bit for DSL service.

Linda Bilocerkowycz, assistant Village administrator for Lake Barrington said residents are desperate for DSL ever since last March when the Village switched cable companies from Jones Cable to AT&T, which does not offer the service.

"We've been dying for it," she said. "We'll take whatever we can get."

During a luncheon hosted by Lake County Partners and SBC Ameritech at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Mundelein last week, SBC

Lindenhurst—Two people left flowers at the site of the death of gunman Eric Hansen, killed on June 5, 2001 after a 14-hour standoff with police at the Eagle supermarket on Grand Avenue. Although local police and the Lake County Sheriff's Department were prepared for anything, the two floral offerings were the only incidents marking the anniversary of the shootout.

State to assume school's finances

Round Lake—Gov. Ryan has signed legislation to create a five-member state financial authority committee to take over the finances for Round Lake Area Schools Community Unit District 116, which could result in a property tax increase for the district. "I expect the school portion of the property taxes go up to 25 to 30 percent," said Round Lake Beach Mayor Richard Hill. The Illinois State Board of Education will now appoint five people to serve on the committee with two of them being district 116 residents. It currently has a short term debt of $14 million and a long term debt of over $40 million.

Reckless scooters anger area residents

Wauconda—The village is adding its name to the list of towns seeking relief from motorized scooters. Trustees will be considering ordinances aimed at regulating the popular mode of transport for teens. Several residents spoke out against how the motorized scooters are used at a village board meeting. Village attorney Rudy Magna said an ordinance regarding motorized scooters is being looked into.

Fremont welcomes new superintendent

Fremont Twp.—After searching for superintendent since last March, Fremont School District 79 announced the appointment of Dr. Rick Taylor to replace Dr. Gary Mical. According to School Board president Kathy Eggert, Mical accepted the position of superintendent in Wheeling School District 21. Taylor assumes his duties on July 15.

Retro McDonald's makeover delayed

Libertyville—Construction on a new, retro-1950s style McDonald's Restaurant, on the site of the present Libertyville McDonald's, 1330 N. Milwaukee Ave., has been delayed until the fall. Libertyville will have the only retro-style McDonald's in northern Illinois. In order to retro-fit the store, it will be razed and re-done in a modern, red-glazed brick, set off by white trim, with the original, full-sized golden arches back in place. The store will have a front walk-up window just like the original McDonald's Restaurant, which is preserved as a museum at its original Des Plaines location.

Soldier re-enactors suffer for realism

Wearing wool uniforms in 90 degrees no day at the beach

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Dave Rydin may have been born 140 years too late.

Rydin is a Civil War re-enactor, so enamored of living the part of a Union or Confederate soldier that he's willing to endure the sweat and relative hardships of volunteers playing 19th century soldiers for a weekend.

Rydin also teaches courses in Civil War re-enactment at the College of Lake County, and will take part in the 11th Annual Civil War Re-enactment at Lakewood Forest Preserve on Sunday, July 7.

Soldiers in that terrible era in American History, from 1861 to 1865, not only suffered the horrific wounds of battle, but lived in often oppressive outdoor conditions, enduring the heat of summer and biting cold of winter.

And in the summer, that meant wearing uniforms made of crude cotton and wool, or 100 percent wool uniforms, in open fields during 90 degree weather.

The resulting stench off men and animals, said Rydin, resulted in the phrase "that you could often smell the battle coming before you could see it."

The uniforms in the south were made of jeans cloth and wool, which felt roughly "like wearing a potato sack," said Rydin. In the north, where sheep were plentiful and the government had more funds, uniforms were 100 percent wool.

For re-enactors, who strive to recreate the conditions that soldiers lived in 140 years ago, authenticity is a mark of pride, and those taking shortcuts are not admired by their peers.

"We have one re-enactor, a major, who wears a cotton and polyester blend uniform," said Rydin. "He's a really nice guy, but we call him the 'polyester major.' Generally, the re-enactors don't care for people who dress in polyester."

Simply meeting the demands of marching and even being shot during the war scene re-enactments can be exhausting, said Rydin.

"You can figure that during the weekend you'll probably walk between six and 10 miles, carrying a rifle weighing 12 or 13 pounds, and other equipment."

Rydin said he drills three things into his re-enactment students. "I tell them to make sure of their shoes, their poncho and canteen. Because they'll always be on their feet, and it's no fun walking miles with blisters. Also, they'll be thirsty from the heat and exercise, and we'll invariably have rain."

The little boy comes out in every re-enactor when he is "shot" by enemy musket fire. "My guys, especially the young guys, like to take great hits. Some of them are very dramatic and very good. They take some monstrous, Hollywood style hits and they try to outdo each other.

"There are some who would rather take a great hit than win the battle."

Once hit, however, with thousands of spectators watching, the soldier has to lie motionless on the ground, in the heat, with the bugs and until your unit has moved on. Only then is a wounded or "dead" soldier allowed to rejoin his unit.

As for Rydin, he won't play his usual role this year, as an army captain in the Tennessee 13th Infantry, but will line up as a private. "It's more fun being a private than an officer," he said. "You don't have to think. You just go out and run."

Civil War re-enactment coming to Wauconda

The boom of cannons, the crack of rifle shots, and galloping cavalry horses will resonate again as Union and Confederate soldiers do battle in the 11th Annual Civil War Re-enactment at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda on Sunday, July 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Guided twilight tours of the camps are offered on Saturday, July 6, from 4 to 8:30 p.m.

This exciting family event, sponsored by Lake County Discovery Museum, transports visitors back to the 1860s with amazing authenticity as they enter the gates of the largest Civil War Encampment in Illinois. The event features a battleground where over 750 re-enactors will recreate a Civil War battle.

The weekend's activities kick off on Saturday evening with one hour, re-enactor-led tours of the camp as the evening fires are lit. Tours depart from the Museum every 15 minutes. The tours offer informative and entertaining demonstrations, stories and music. The evening culminates at dusk with a twilight firing of the cannons on the battlefield.

Tickets for the camp tours are $6 for adults and $3 for youth ages six to 17 (Lake County residents), and $8 for adults and $4 for youth age six to 17 (non-residents). The evening camp tours are not recommended for children age six and under. Reservations and pre-payment are required. Please call 847-968-3400 to reserve your spot for this exciting evening.

On Sunday, July 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Civil War history will come to life through on-going performances and demonstrations including military, medical, family life, and civilian professions, all created with amazing attention to authenticity. Civil War era vendors, called Sutlers, will be providing interesting event shopping opportunities.

Re-enactors President and Mrs. Lincoln will also be attending this year, with a special address to be given by President Lincoln.

The Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry will all be conducting live drills throughout the day in preparation for the narrated and choreographed full battle re-enactment that will be presented from 2 to 3 p.m.

Admission for the Sunday activities is $7 for adults and $3 for youth and includes admission to Lake County's award-winning Discovery Museum.

Food will be available for purchase and free parking both days. Lakewood Forest Preserve is located on Route 176 at Fairfield Road, just east of Wauconda.

For information, please call the Lake County Discovery Museum at 847-968-3400 or visit the Forest Preserves website at www.LCFPD.org for details.

Training for Chicago Marathon offered weekends in Libertyville

The Chicagoland Area Runners' Association (CARA) offers training at Independence Grove Forest Preserve in Libertyville, for the LaSalle Bank Chicago Marathon in October.

From June 15 through Oct. 13, marathon training groups will meet every weekend to build strength, stamina, and have the chance to interact with other runners.

Weekend training runs, the core of the training program, meet at 6:45 a.m. Saturday mornings at Independence Grove in Libertyville. Runners who currently log at least 20 miles per week (including at least one weekly run of six miles or more) are welcome to join the program, whose many benefits include access to a special CARA tent on Race Day.

Each of the 18 weekly training runs is led by an experienced marathoner, and runners are placed with those at similar levels to assure the best help and support from the group's leaders.

A series of performance-optimizing clinics offer training program participants invaluable information on injury prevention, shoe selection, nutrition, training goals and methods, and race strategy.

To register online, just visit the CARA web site, www.cararuns.org. For more information, call CARA at 312-666-9836.

Volo Bog area can use visitors

Volo Bog State Natural Area deserves to be high on the list of "things to do and places to see." That the environmental treasure drew only 60,000 visitors last year, about the same number of people who will visit the nearby Chain O' Lakes for the upcoming long July 4 weekend, says a lot about the tastes of Americans.

Formed 15,000 years ago when the last glacier retreated, the bog didn't come to attention until the late 1920s when a Northwestern University professor pointed out its ecological importance. Native Americans shied away from the bog, located five miles off Route 12 south of Fox Lake, thinking it beset by evil spirits because plates shake. This feature makes the site technically a rare "quaking bog." Early settlers shunned the bog because it was unsuitable for farming and considered it a worthless swamp.

The bog, now considered a priceless natural resource, was vulnerable to development until 1958 when The Nature Conservancy bought 47 acres and turned it over to the University of Illinois. According to Outdoor Illinois magazine, published by the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources, a developer attempted to get the area around the bog zoned for commercial building in 1969, prompting the Illinois Attorney General to take legal steps to insure development wouldn't damage the bog. At that time the state formulated action to create environmental activities and passive recreation. Periodically, the state has added acreage to the natural area and buffer. Today Volo Bog is approximately 1,200 acres in size.

For quiet reflection and communing with nature, Volo Bog is ideal for year-around tours for all ages, birding, astronomy, insect safaris, observing the rare bat habitat and listening to stories told by park personnel and members of Friends of Volo Bog, a support group with 250 members.

Bogs are common in Wisconsin and Minnesota, but Volo Bog is considered the best of Illinois' dozen. The bog becomes a natural laboratory when visited by school children. For others, the bog is a fascinating place, rich in flora and fauna, with a touch of mystery supplied by shaking plants.

Starting point: it's Great Lakes

In the words of Adm. Vern Clark, Chief of Naval Operations, "This is where it all starts—here at Great Lakes."

During a recent visit to Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Adm. Clark spoke to a group of civilian and military leaders, emphasizing the huge investment being made to give the men and women serving at the base the right tools to create the 21st Century Sailor. The early phases of a nearly $1 billion recapitalization program now are unfolding.

Besides brick and mortar, the Navy also is taking care to support to the utmost the officers and instructors entrusted with turning raw recruits into dedicated, dependable and productive sailors. Adm. Clark called their job "growing our young people and getting them started off on the right foot."

As neighbors of the Navy's only recruit training facility, Lake County residents can take pride that the awesome responsibilities for national security entrusted in the U.S. Naval forces "starts right here."

VIEWPOINT

System, opinions vary on school size

Education professionals and elected school board officials, the ones not in classrooms, always seem to be tweaking the system, changing programs, fiddling with the rules. One thing they can't seem to agree on is what size a high school should be or how a high school should be organized.

New Trier Township High on the North Shore, usually ranked nationally when the outstanding U.S. high schools are considered, is grappling with the notion of a freshmen-only campus. The first year with 9th graders separated at Northfield has concluded and district officials are studying whether the system should be continued. A majority of faculty and staff members like the freshman-only structure. Some of the freshmen complained they were left out of homecoming fun.

If folks in the affluent district can't make up their minds, they can look northward. Various high school configurations in Lake County are available for convenient study.

In communities where growth dictates expansion, Grayslake (1,661 students), Libertyville (2,658) and Antioch (2,018) have opted for separate four-year schools with smaller enrollments. Stevenson (4,000 enrollment) has adopted the "big school" concept and will operate as a four-year program no matter how large enrollment gets. Warren (2,998) expanded facilities to accommodate a larger student body and decided upon the two-campus system, one freshmen-sophomore, one junior-senior.

As we understand it, "big school" proponents equate size with excellence—winning sports programs, big orchestras, extensive libraries, college-like laboratories.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Smaller high schools, so the theory goes, invite more participation in extra-curricular activities and encourage a friendlier, low-key atmosphere. The goal of academic excellence is a given no matter the size. It's the "extras" that vary with the size of the high school.

Years ago, Waukegan and Lake Forest scrubbed separate high schools, but that was mainly brought on by shrinking enrollments.

Although he manages a high school that is big and getting bigger, Dr. Robert A. McKenna, superintendent of Warren Township's two-campus high school, says his idea of an ideal high school enrollment is 700 to 800 students, large enough to conduct quality programs, but small enough to manage and a size where no student is left out or overlooked.

Carmel High School, a Catholic institution serving all of Lake County, has maintained a relatively stable enrollment of about 1,300 students for nearly 20 years.

Demand for freshmen year enrollment always exceeds available space. School size at the private school is determined by tuition and fees which is a consideration public schools don't have.

Big box replies

Judging from a survey of Chamber of Commerce members, not all Antioch business operators are aghast at the prospect of Wal-Mart coming to town. On a question of the impact of big box stores, 51 percent of respondents registered negative. But 48 percent were in the good, very good or fair category. Seventy-four percent replied favorably about the big boxes. Regarding the favorable attribute of big box stores, 64 percent noted tax gain and convenience. More information was sought by 61 percent of those who responded.

Good scouts

Plumbing, heating and cooling contractors combined to overhaul the kitchen at Camp Makajawan in Wisconsin, a heralded Boy Scout facility in northern Wisconsin. Among firms helping complete the $15,000 project were Killian Plumbing, Lake Forest; Mahoney Plumbing, Highwood; Clifford Moran Plumbing and Heating, Highland Park; National Plumbing and Heating Supply, Libertyville, and Builders Plumbing Supply, Mundelein. Hundreds of local Boy Scouts had their first camping experience at Makajawan, maintained by the Northeast Illinois Council for more than 60 years.

Toast for health

"A beer a day will keep the doctor away." To heck with apples! One of those "recent studies" found that moderate beer consumption may help reduce the risk of heart disease, stroke, dementia, diabetes and help control obesity. A professor in Dallas found that beer is maybe even better than wine in promoting good health. Here's to your good health.

It's your 'backyard'—Fight to protect it

It's your 'backyard'—Fight to protect it. There have been some editorial comments in newspapers that decry the "not in my backyard" (NIMBY) attitude of communities across the suburbs of America.

It's not a new attitude; people have always raised protests when they envision developments that may negatively impact their way of life or property values. It may be that people are becoming more active these days because of the densities of residential development and the over-commercializa-

The problem that I have with some of the opinion pieces is that they tend to imply that ordinary citizens don't know what is best for their own communities. If we left all of such decisions up to the developers, we would be at their mercy.

Locally, we have read all about concerns of many residents in and around Antioch who fear what may happen to that quaint village if a Wal-Mart store is allowed to locate there, or approval is given to construct over 1,000 homes. If you believe some of those editorial comments, the people shouldn't have a voice in such proposals. I strongly disagree. The same goes for the citizens in Waukegan who

CONDELL HEALTH NETWORK

New Procedure Detects Heart Disease

What's your heart score? Condell Medical Center is offering another diagnostic tool for the detection of heart disease called HeartScoring. Sometimes called a heart scan or cardio scan, this new procedure detects the presence of calcium buildup (also known as hardening of the arteries, plaque or atherosclerosis) inside the major arteries of the heart. Atherosclerosis is one of the known precursors to heart attack.

Heart score procedure. A technician uses a CT scanner equipped with specialized high-speed software that quickly captures clear pictures of the insides of the coronary arteries, which are in constant motion as the heart beats. The procedure is non-invasive and painless - no needles, tubes or dyes are inserted into the body - and it takes less than 30 minutes to complete. While a doctor's referral is not required to undergo the test, patients do need to provide a physician's name for follow-up. After the procedure, a radiology physician evaluates the results and calculates a HeartScore that determines the extent of calcium buildup, if any, in the coronary arteries. Because of its sensitivity for detecting calcium and its unique ability to determine the size and density of each deposit, results from HeartScoring can serve as an effective tool to track and monitor the extent of calcium buildup over time.

Schedule your appointment. To arrange an appointment for HeartScoring, call Condell's central scheduling department at (847) 362-2905, ext. 5000 or contact your Condell physician for further details.

Baby Talk

This group weight management program, led by a Registered Dietician, offers you an opportunity to improve your lifestyle habits. You will learn the positive health benefits of weight reduction, sound nutrition, and regular exercise. We will monitor your progress through daily food and exercise logs, weekly weigh-ins and - most importantly - teach you to be a self-manager to maintain your healthy habits.

How the program works

Through 8 weekly group meetings, you are provided with the information and support to make positive lifestyle changes. The program was designed by a team of experts including a Registered Dietician, an Exercise Physiologist and a Health Behavior Counselor. The group setting will help to provide the motivation to consistently make good choices in the foods you eat and the proper exercise to reach your goals.

The use of Centre Club facilities and equipment is limited according to program specifications set forth by the Lean for Life staff. This program is offered three times a year at each club. Call (847) 362-2905, ext. 5770 (Libertyville) or (847) 362-2905, ext. 4770 (Gurnee).

Healthy Achiever

Designed for adolescents age 13-17 years old who are greater than 20% over their ideal weight, Condell Medical Center's innovative program assists families in creating an environment in which both children and adults can develop long term exercise and nutrition habits. Each adolescent must have and adult participate with them.

Program objectives:

- *Lower health risks and emotional trauma in obese children
- *Encourage families to work together on developing healthy eating and exercise skills - regular family nights are scheduled.
- *Assist children in adopting positive attitudes regarding body image, fitness and wellness.

Midwestern to celebrate grand opening of expanded out-patient cancer treatment clinic

Tent ceremony will be coupled with annual Celebrate Life event

Cancer Treatment Centers of America, at Midwestern Regional Medical Center will celebrate the opening of its three-story building expansion during a ceremony scheduled for June 28, 2002. The 11 a.m. ceremony will be followed by a light luncheon at noon.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America, which treats cancer patients from all 50 states and 45 foreign countries, has experienced double-digit growth in new cancer patients for the past several years and the monthly increase in new patients has accelerated dramatically in the last year.

The $5 million expansion added nearly 30,000 square feet to the more than 125,000 square-foot hospital. That is relatively small in square-footage to other announced hospital expansions in the Chicago area but the hospital did not add in-patient capacity to the 95-bed facility, which is more costly from a bricks and mortar perspective. The addition instead more than doubles the hospital's outpatient cancer treatment capacity, which makes the expansion a significant addition to the cancer treatment facilities in Zion.

The building project also doubled the number of consultation rooms for complementary therapies such as nutrition, naturopathy, psychoneuroimmunology and spiritual care, which are staples of the patient-empowerment approach CTCA uses in cancer treatment.

The addition features bay windows on the west side of the second and third floors to enhance the patients' view of Shiloh Park Lagoon across the street and the roof sports a helicopter pad.

The fourth floor will be used for classrooms, storage and maintenance space and will be ready for remodeling for future oncology services expansion.

The public is invited to the under-the-tent ceremony, which will take place in the south parking lot, and may RSVP by calling (847) 872-6262 or via e-mail at rsvp@ctca-corp.com.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America, (CTCA,) at Midwestern Regional Medical Center has been honored by Modern Maturity Magazine as one of the 15 friendliest hospitals in the nation. Midwestern was also ranked second in Natural Health Magazine's listing of the Healthiest Hospitals in America. Founded in 1988, CTCA manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs that employ a comprehensive, integrated approach to traditional cancer treatment to empower patients to fight their cancer while maintaining a high quality of life. In addition to medically advanced cancer treatments such as surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, CTCA offers complementary treatments, including naturopathy, therapeutic nutrition, psychological and spiritual support, and oncology rehabilitation. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA's Midwestern Regional is the only hospital in Illinois to receive back-to-back accreditation with commendation by JCAHO. CTCA supports progressive cancer research through its affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCA serves cancer patients worldwide primarily at its hospitals in Zion, Illinois and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Other facilities are located in Goshen, Indiana; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Seattle, Washington. For more information about CTCA, call toll-free 1-800-577-1255, or visit the web site, www.cancerfighter.com.

Out of the mouth's of babes

Hi Dr. Singer,

We just recently had a large family gathering at our home. It was a dinner party and we had lots of relatives over. Our 5 year old son saw it as the time to tell our overweight cousin how fat she is and my very loud sister-in-law how loud she is and how my uncles cologne smells like dirty pond water. She cannot take credit for coming up with these things. These are things she has heard myself and my husband say about these people. We wanted to crawl under the table and just about did. How can we get him to stop saying these things to people? N.N.

Hi N.N.,

Ouch and double ouch! I don't think I have ever heard such a great reason for the old adage, "if you don't have something nice to say, don't say anything." Sometimes we forget, but our kids are like little tape recorders and they hear and pick up lots of things that we don't mean them to. Kids also don't really know what they are saying when they say things like that and they don't mean to hurt someone, especially at that age.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

Unfortunately, he just saw it as an opportunity to express what Mommy and Daddy had expressed so prominently in front of him. He probably thought he was being helpful.

The first thing I would strongly suggest is that you and your husband make an agreement that the only things you say in front of the child are nice things about others. I know we are all human and we all talk about others in not such nice ways sometimes, but we do need to limit that talk to when our kids are not around. I believe it is also a good thing to get into the habit of doing all the time anyway. When you spend your day finding the nice things about people rather than focusing on the things you don't like, it tends to make your relationships with people better and your outlook on life better in general! If you don't mention these negative things again, most likely, your son will forget them and not use them again. Just don't give him any new ammunition!

The second thing I would do is to call and apologize to the family members, assuming you haven't done that already. Most people understand that kids do say anything and everything, but if you want to make sure your relationship with these people is o.k., you may want to just do some follow-up and serious feather smoothing.

Third, I would have you talk with your son and make sure to help him to see the nice things about people. I would not sit down and angrily tell him to never say those things again, because he won't understand and he will feel punished for nothing. Remember that he doesn't understand it now quite the same way you do. You may tell him that it wasn't nice of Mommy and Daddy to say those things and that it hurts people's feelings to say things like that. That is really all that needs to get said on that part of it. Next, start showing him how to look for the good and tell people nice things. These are very good social skills to teach him, because he will need them soon enough in school and life.

Important note: Dr. Singer's maternity leave is between April 19th, 2002 and July 9th, 2002. She is currently not taking calls, answering messages or scheduling new appointments. Beginning July 9th, 2002, she will begin to take calls for new appointments. Dr. Singer does not see people on an emergency basis and advises people that if they are in an emergency of any kind relating to their child, they need to consult the closest emergency room for evaluation and referral. Although she will not be seeing people during her maternity leave, you can still catch her column each week right here at Lakeland Newspapers.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior and processing skills. New to Dr. Singer's practice is her very powerful "Tic Mark System of Behavior Improvement in Kids." This system has promoted unbelievably fast behavior change both at home and school with very little work from parents and teachers. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with improving attention, distractibility, self-control, focus and processing in her Total Success Program. Simple questions may help predict death risk for heart patients

People with heart disease who responded to a survey saying that they were limited by their symptoms and had a poor quality of life were more likely to suffer a heart attack or die, according to a report in today's Journal of the American Heart Association.

Physical functioning (the ability to perform routine tasks), severity of symptoms and quality of life, are measures that scientists have often considered "soft" data, says the study's lead author John A. Spertus, M.D., M.P.H., an associate professor at the University of Missouri, Kansas City, and director of outcomes research at the Mid America Heart Institute. "This study shows that these measurements are not as 'soft' as one might think and they are associated with 'hard' end points, including hospitalization and death." Spertus developed an instrument called the Seattle Angina Questionnaire (SAQ) to measure heart disease patients' perceptions of their quality of life. The SAQ is a 19-question survey that asks heart disease patients to what degree angina (chest pain) limits their physical activity; how often they have angina, and how it affects their quality of life. Patients' responses are scored on a scale of 0 to 100. Higher scores indicate less physical limitation, less angina and better quality of life. This is the first study to use a disease-specific questionnaire to predict death and heart attack rates in patients with coronary artery disease, says Spertus.

"We spend a lot of time in medicine doing tests to figure out who is at the highest risk so we can be more aggressive in treating those patients. Here's a simple questionnaire that could be used for a similar purpose. It is much easier to administer than a nuclear stress test, which can cost $1500 to $1800, and is best interpreted by highly experienced cardiologists."

"I wouldn't recommend it in lieu of other tests, but it is not practical to give patients a nuclear stress test every month. However, filling out this questionnaire every month or every three months is a very cost-effective way to monitor patients' health."

In an accompanying editorial, John S. Rumsfeld, M.D., Ph.D., director of cardiology and health sciences research, Denver Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Denver, Colo., says that it is becoming increasingly important for physicians to deliver more patient-centered care and this study speaks to that need.

Patients with scores from 25 to 49 were twice as likely to die within a year from heart disease as those who scored their symptoms as "minimal" (75 to 100). Patients who scored from 50 to 74 were 50 percent more likely to die within the year.

The fight against cancer will now be held in a bigger arena.

Each year we plant a tree to honor those who have fought cancer and won. The ceremony is appropriately entitled Celebrate Life. We have already planted hundreds of trees in Zion.

This year, we have even more to celebrate with the opening of our new out-patient cancer treatment clinic. The new space doubles our capacity to help people from around the country win their fight against cancer. With the new capacity, our hope is to celebrate life with many more people in the future.

The grand opening ceremony for the out-patient oncology treatment center is scheduled for:

Friday, June 28
Ceremony at 11 a.m.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

AREA ATHLETES MAKING THE GRADE

Sayers caps off solid career at Augie

Augustana College

Men's golf

Former Wildcat and Libertyville native Brian Sayers, who just graduated from Augustana, has been selected to the College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin Academic All-Conference Team for the spring season.

Sayers turned in a tremendous season for the Vikings under third-year coach Grey Gionanine. This spring, Sayers played 14 rounds of tournament golf, averaging 76.4. His low for the spring was a 73. He held the third-best average on the team. In addition, Sayers finished fifth at the Knox Invitational, fifth in the Big Blue Classic, seventh in the Illinois State Intercollegiate Championship and 10th at the Augustana Invitational. At the CCIW meet, he was eighth.

Sayers was a member of the school-record setting effort at the Millikin 'Big Blue' Classic at Hickory Point Golf Course in Decatur. The first day of the 2-day event, Sayers carded a 74, which helped the Vikings to a record four-man score of 285. In the second round, Sayers fired a 79 as the Vikings shot 298, good for another record 583 over the two rounds.

Sayers was then third in the CCIW tournament in 2001 and has twice been named to the National Golf Coaches Association All-Academic team. He served as captain in 2002 and was named Most Improved Player his junior year.

Off the course, Sayers served as president of his fraternity and was a member of the student judiciary board while maintaining a grade point average of 3.42. Sayers majored in business administration.

Men's track and field

Former Waukegan Bulldog and Lindenhurst native Brandon Vahl has earned the Most Valuable Track Athlete for this past spring season. Vahl, who competed in the 800-meter run, posted a season-best time of 1:54.63 during a meet in May.

Teammate and Grayslake High grad Jeff Lindeman also turned in a solid year, qualifying for the NCAA Div.-3 Nationals in the pole vault.

Lindeman, Vahl and sprinter Andy Konicek (Wauconda, Carmel H.S.) were all letterwinners this season.

Clarke College (Dubuque, Iowa)

Libertyville native Tom Palic earned the Hustle Award this spring while playing for the Clarke College men's tennis team. Palic was also named the most valuable player and finished second overall after taking second in both the slalom and giant slalom in Alpine skiing at the Chicago Division Championships.

College of Wooster

Men's tennis

Matt Sykes, a Libertyville grad, finished 14-10 in doubles action for the Ram men's tennis team, which posted a 14-18 mark this spring.

Cornell College (Mount Vernon, Iowa)

Baseball

Former Mundelein baseball standout

Drew Simonis earned a varsity letter on the diamond for Cornell this spring. In 11 games, Simonis batted close to .205 as the team posted a 21-15 overall mark, including 11-9 in conference play.

Softball

Vernon Hills native Janis Dickman earned a varsity letter as the Rams finished 14-18.

Women's track and field

Former Round Lake track standout Brandi Rheeberg earned a varsity letter this spring. The freshman is majoring in interior design.

Denver University Lacrosse

Former Libertyville High lacrosse standout Greer Hanlon competed in 12 games this spring for the University of Denver men's lacrosse team. Hanlon, a middie, scored four goals while dishing out three assists. He also collected nine ground balls. This summer, Hanlon will compete for the Junior A Burnaby Lakers in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Illinois State University Women's soccer

Former Libertyville High soccer standout Allison Farrington was chosen by her Redbird teammates as one of the team's captains for the upcoming 2002 fall season.

Farrington, who transferred to ISU from Neosho County Community College prior to last year, allowed a stellar .80 goals per game as a reserve goalie. Included in her season highlights, Farrington had one shutout to her credit, a 3-0 win over Eastern Illinois.

Honor roll

The following ISU student-athletes were named to the honor roll for the spring semester: football players Tim Beshel (Libertyville); Mundelein's Paul Chiapetta; and Gurnee's Joe Pantoja.

Grayslake grad Casey Gant also made the list as a member of the men's track and field and cross-country teams. Gymnastics team member Kelly Noonan of Mundelein and softball team member Lauren Bierwirth, also of Mundelein, also earned the honor.

Illinois Wesleyan University

Men's tennis

In his freshman season, former Antioch High tennis standout Jason Love finished with a 20-7 record in doubles action.

Lakeland College (Lakeland, Wis.)

Baseball

Former Mundelein standout pitcher Steve Plucinski has earned Third Team All-American honors. Lakeland bowed out of the NCAA Div.-3 championships following a 2-1 loss to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

For the spring season, Plucinski finished with a 9-3 record while batting .350. When not on the mound, Plucinski played second base.

Lewis College Baseball

Former Carmel High baseball standout Mike Gerald was the second-leading hitter on the Lewis baseball team this spring. He had a .404 batting average to go along with a .544 on-base percentage as the squad finished the spring season 16-6.

University of Kentucky Volleyball

Liz McCaslin (Libertyville) was named to the Southeastern Conference Good Works At-Large Team. The SEC picks the team in efforts to highlight an athlete from each conference school who gives back to their community in superior service efforts.

Matt Glees

Football

Vernon Hills' Ted Soenksen has been recruited to play college football at Lake Forest starting in the fall. Last fall, Soenksen, a two-time All-conference honoree, played linebacker and guard for the Cougars, which made it all the way to the Class 5A quarterfinals.

Basketball

Vernon Hills graduate Matt Glees, the county's leading scorer last winter at 20 points per game, will showcase his talents at Carthage College in Kenosha next year. Even though some Div.-1 schools passed on Glees, Carthage is one of the best Div.-3 programs around the Midwest, at least in the last four years.

Head coach Bosko Djurickovic guided the Redmen to a 28-2 overall mark last winter. The College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin champions earned a trip to the NCAA Div.-3 Final Four before settling for third-place.

Carthage has been a power the last four years, having enjoyed five straight winning seasons while compiling a 74-11 record over the past three years.

Last winter, Glees helped Vernon win 20 games, including a first-round regional win over Mundelein.

First-time winners highlight Lake Geneva

Despite rain falling to the north, it was a perfect night for racing last weekend at Lake Geneva.

E & C dry walling company of Lake Geneva sponsored the program as the 5 Star Race car bodies company presented part two of the No Bull series. Rick Corso of McHenry was the winner of the 50-lap Budweiser, leading the only important part of the race the one as you cross the line and the checkered flag comes out.

This was Corso's second win of the season in feature action and for his efforts, he received $1000. In the McHenry Limousine super stocks, Mike Bell of Waukesha may have come across the line in second but his racecar passed inspection and the winner did not. So the 25-lap non-stop feature went to the second-year driver who is in his third season of racing. This was his first career win.

In the Performance Unlimited 25-lap sportsman feature, Jeremy Bloomberg of Hampshire also won his first career feature race.

Before the super late model feature even began last no bull winner Randy Rodgers ducked into the pits with problems but returned just as the green flag was thrown. Jamie Wallace shot off his pole starting position with Jeff Lorenz, Denny Hiffman and Terry Patnode in hot pursuit. In lap three, the action came to a halt when Rodgers, Jerry Cowan and Chuck Duncan got together. When the green flag came back out, Wallace had Hiffman challenging his top spot. Matt Kocourek then quickly moved past Lorenz and Hiffman as the leader moved forward.

A foreign object found its way onto the track on lap eight, producing another caution flag. Kocourek was all over the leader as the green reappeared with Lorenz and now Rick Corso right behind. Brian Ulrich, Patnode and Billy Baumeister tried everything to advance but to no avail. By lap 15, Corso had worked his way into third after a lengthy battle of positioning.

Ten laps later, Wallace had a small but comfortable lead with Kocourek, Corso and now Al Schill waiting for any mistake. On lap 32, fast timer Donovan Morgan and Fran Prestay made contact while running mid-pack.

Morgan went around and out came the caution. After each restart, Wallace was in firm command of the top spot but the race for second through tenth had all cars running on the straightaway of each other. Corso moved past Kocourek on lap 41. Just as the white flag was coming out Baumeister spun while running fifth. Everyone missed him but now it would be wild for those final two laps. With the white flag out, Wallace looked like a sure winner after numerous challenges throughout those first 49 laps but coming for the checkered the leader spun in liquid in turn three and everyone went by after just missing him. After the cars were realigned with the exception of starting leader Dave Rex Jr. gave the checkered and Corso was the winner. Schill, a recovered Morgan Kocourek, Ulrich, and Prestay completed the top 6.

Tom Fay led the first lap on the super stock feature before Mike Gunderson inched ahead of him. Mike Bell, Brad Norgaard and Sonny Schoffen were right on his tail.

This was another close event as the leader moved to a 3-car advantage. By lap 10, Scott Eggebrecht joined the battle for second as the leader remained just in front.

It was a great race for second through eleventh as Gunderson nipped Bell by less than a foot for the win. John Janssen, Eggebrecht, Norgaard, and Jeremy Tess rounded out the top-10 in another close contest. After a post race inspection, Gunderson was dropped from the field after pumping too much compression. Schoffen was then credited with sixth.

Jeremy Bloomberg came off the pole and never looked back even with a lonely caution on lap eight. As the sportsman feature looked just like the other two main events.

Point leader and quick qualifier James Swan was right along side for second. Denny Norton Jr. was third with Zac Deeringer fourth, Mike Lange fifth and Eric Pierce sixth.

On June 22, Lynch Motors will present the Planet Pages Mid-American Point series events plus the super late models and super stocks. Earlier in the day, Lynch will hold its annual race car show at the Highway 36 north location from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

HoopStar 1-3 at Parkside

The Northern Lake County HoopStars fifth-grade boy's travel basketball team posted a 1-3 record at the Kenosha Area Athletics Basketball Junkies Tour, hosted at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

In the first game, a 35-23 loss to the sixth-grade Road Warriors II team, Brandon Paul scored 20 points. Fifteen of the points resulted from Paul's hot hand with five three-point shots. Paul also had three rebounds, had two steals, and blocked one shot. Chad Clausen scored the remaining three points. On the defensive side, John Androus had six rebounds while Jake Anderson had three rebounds, two steals, and a block. The then HoopStars rolled to a 50-12 win over the Racine Hoopsters in the second game.

The team had a well-rounded offensive effort. Leading the HoopStars scoring was Paul with 15 points and one assist. Other contributions came from Clausen, who had nine points, Michael Brocious and Anderson, each with six, and James Poliquin and Scott Dehnke, adding five points each. Rounding out the scoring effort was Ryan DeRose and Androus, each chipping in with two. The team had a strong defensive effort with Paul grabbing 11 boards and Anderson and Androus seven each. Brocious and Poliquin added four rebounds apiece. DeRose, Anderson, and Androus each collected three steals while Anderson, Paul, and Brocious provided key shot blocking.

In the third game, the HoopStars lost to the sixth-grade Kenosha Warriors, 40-25. Key offensive contributions came from Paul, who had 12 points to go along with an assist.

Anderson netted seven points and Clausen five. Leading the defense was Anderson with 10 rebounds and a blocked shot. Brocious had six rebounds and three steals and Paul grabbed five rebounds to accompany one steal and a block. Dehnke also had two boards and a blocked shot. Clausen also had two rebounds and added three steals. Poliquin and Androus each added a rebound and a steal.

In the finale, the HoopStars went down to defeat 47-31 to the Road Warriors III. Trailing 22-12 at halftime, the HoopStars closed the deficit to 26-22 in the second half before the Warriors took control of the game. Paul provided 15 points, Brocious added six, and Clausen four. Poliquin and Androus each threw in three points. The team had a well-balanced defensive effort with Paul having six rebounds, two steals, and a block. Poliquin also snagged five rebounds plus a steal. Brocious had four boards, a steal, and a block. Dehnke, Anderson, and Androus had three rebounds each and DeRose two. Clausen grabbed a rebound and had four steals. DeRose, Androus, and Dehnke all had steals as well.

Roger Clausen and Steve Furmanski coach the team. The HoopStars will be competing in the Great Lakes Shoot Out at the University of Wisconsin-Stout June 28-30.

Youth home run derby June 23

The Century 21 Home Run Derby will take place Sun., June 23, at the Lake Villa Township Baseball Park in Lake Villa. Participants must play in sanctioned Lake County youth baseball leagues to be eligible. Separate contests will be held for players ages 11, 12, 13 and 14. The entry fee is $5. Players must have a copy of their birth certificate. The participants are selected from surrounding local youth baseball organizations.

In addition to the competition, a raffle will award a Cal Ripken autographed baseball and two tickets to a Major League Home Run Derby scheduled for July 8, just before the All-Star Game at Miller Park in Milwaukee.

To further the baseball spirit, Century 21 United will hold auditions to sing the National Anthem at the Lake Villa Homerun Derby. All teens ages 11-14 are eligible to audition before two Lake County music teachers on June 2. Register for auditions before May 23 by calling Cynthia Nash at Century 21 United/Grayslake at 847-548-5000.

Campers get jump-start on high school careers

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Correspondent

Carmel High School's new freshman basketball players had a chance last week to get a head start on their season's before the beginning of class in August.

Head varsity basketball coach Joe Molloy held a basketball clinic for freshman looking to be a part of the program some day. All freshmen were welcome, but almost every one of the 30-plus kids is expected to attend Carmel, according to Molloy.

Stressing the importance of having proper techniques, Molloy worked with his new group of players on the fundamentals of the game.

"We started out with form shooting," said Molloy. "We taught the kids about following through and using your legs when you shoot." Because Carmel runs a motion offense, many of the campers spent the week working on moving without the ball.

"Offensively we want them to learn how to space the floor," Molloy said. "They learned the basics of our offense like setting screens and cutting to the basket."

By the end of the week, Molloy and staff gave the freshman a chance to put those skills to work. Shooting contests such as knockout along with team competition were the highlight of the last day of camp.

"The kids love knockout," Molloy said.

The varsity team this season will feature a junior with already two years of experience playing at the highest level in high school. Jack Simmons has blossomed into an all-around athlete in both football and basketball.

Now, younger brother Colin is a member of the Carmel family, having attended Molloy's camp last week.

"Coach Molloy is very enthusiastic about the program and what he wants accomplished," the younger Simmons said.

Colin Simmons just wrapped up his time at St. Joe's in Libertyville, and wants to play football and basketball like his older brother. He hopes to play fullback and linebacker for Andy Bittner and Co. this fall, while playing either center or forward on the basketball team during the winter.

"They've stressed shooting and ball-handling at this camp," Colin Simmons said. "We worked on motions, setting screens and using screens to your advantage."

Molloy still has openings for the grades 1-4 camp on July 8-12. The camp runs from 2-4 p.m. and the costs $80.00. Parents can register by calling Molloy at 847-566-3000, ext. 426.

Proctor, Invaders track sparkles

The Waukegan Invaders continued to burn up the track with strong performances at the Belvidere League Meet and the Aurora Flyers Meet.

At the Belvidere Meet, Antonia Bland took first in the 100, 200 and 400 meter dashes and Paris Bell took fifth in the 200 meter dash in the Pee Wee (ages 7-8) group.

Lataja Bland took first in the 800 meter run, second in the 400 meter dash and third in the 100 meter dash in the Midget (ages 11-12) group.

The relay team of Vincent Bell, DeShawn Towers, Adarius Walton and Donovan Wilson took first in the 4X100 meter relay and second in the 4X400 meter relay in the Bantam (ages 9-10).

Michael Taylor (3rd, 100 meter dash, 1st, 200 meter dash); Towers (2nd, 100 and 200 meter dashes); Bell (1st, 400 meter dash, 4th, 100 meter dash); and Todd Bland (1st, shot put) also fared well in the Bantam group.

In the Youth Girls group (ages 13-14), Shawna Henderson (2nd, 100 and 200 meter dashes); Shaunise Edwards (fourth, 100 meter dash); and Synquis Grover (2nd, 400 meter dash) all ran well.

A very exciting addition to the Invaders team this year is a state qualifying junior from Libertyville, Lizzie Proctor.

Proctor vaulted to a personal best height of 11 feet, six inches to take first at the Aurora Meet.

Also at the Aurora Meet, the relay team of Bell, Towers, Walton and Wilson took first in both the 4X400 and 4X100 meter relays and Bland took second in the shot put.

The Invaders will now prepare for the USATF Junior Olympics State Meet in Bolingbrook on June 28.

PUBLIC NOTICE
ORDINANCE NO. 2002-05-04
AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING PREVAILING WAGE RATES TO BE PAID TO LABORERS, MECHANICS AND OTHER WORKERS PERFORMING CONSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR THE ROUND LAKE AREA PARK DISTRICT

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois has enacted the Prevailing Wage Act, approved June 26, 1941, as amended, being 820 ILCS 130/0.01 through 130/12 (the "Act"); and WHEREAS, the Act requires that during the month of June of each calendar year the Board of Commissioners of the Round Lake Area Park District investigate and ascertain the prevailing rate of wages, as defined in said Act, in the "locality" of the Park District for laborers, mechanics and other workers performing construction of public works for the Park District.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Commissioners of the Round Lake Area Park District, Lake County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1: To the extent and as required by the Act, the general prevailing rate of wages in this locality for laborers, mechanics and other workers engaged in the construction of public works coming under the jurisdiction of the Park District is hereby ascertained to be the same as the prevailing rate of wages for construction work in Lake County as determined by the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois (the "Department") as of June 1, 2002, a copy of that determination being attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. As required by said Act, any and all revisions of the prevailing rate of wages by the Department shall supersede the Department's June determination and apply to any and all public works construction undertaken by the Village. The definition of any terms appearing in this Ordinance which are also used in the Act shall be the same as the definitions specified in the Act.

Section 2: Nothing herein is intended to apply or shall be construed to apply said prevailing rate of wages as herein ascertained to any work or employment performed on behalf of this Village except public works construction to the extent required by the Act.

Section 3: The Park District Secretary shall publicly post or keep available for inspection by any interested party in the park district office this determination of prevailing rate of wages. A copy of this determination or of the current revised determination of prevailing rate of wages then in effect shall be attached to all contract specifications.

Section 4: The Park District Secretary shall promptly file a certified copy of this Ordinance with the Secretary of State of Illinois in Springfield.

Section 5: Within thirty (30) days after filing a certified copy of this Ordinance with the Secretary of State, the Park District Secretary shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the area a notice that this determination is effective and constitutes the determination of this public body.

Section 6: The Park District Secretary shall mail a copy of this Ordinance to any employer, to any association of employers, and to any person or association of employees, who have filed their names and addresses requesting copies of any determination stating the particular rates and the particular class of workers whose wages will be affected by such rates.

Section 7: If any section, paragraph, clause, or provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity thereof shall not affect any of the other provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 8: All Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Section 9: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from after its passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

PASSED THIS 13th DAY OF June, 2002.

THE BOARD OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES OF THE FOX LAKE PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT LAKE AND MCHENRY COUNTIES, ILLINOIS
ORDINANCE NO. 2001/2002-6

ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO LEVY FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002-2003 AND ADDITIONAL TAX OF UP TO .02 PERCENT OF EQUALIZED OR ASSESSED VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY FOR PARTICULAR BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT PURPOSES IN ACCORDANCE WITH 75 ILLINOIS COMPILED STATUTES, SECTION 16/35-5

WHEREAS, the Fox Lake Public Library District, Lake and McHenry Counties, Illinois, is a public library district organized pursuant to 75 ILCS 16/11 et seq., the Illinois Public Library District Act; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Library Trustees of the Fox Lake Public Library District is the corporate authority of said public library district, pursuant to statutory authority set forth in Sec. 16/30-35 of the aforesaid statute; and

WHEREAS, Section 16/35-5(b) of the aforesaid act provides that the corporate authority may levy an additional tax of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the district, as equalized or assessed, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs, and alterations of library buildings and equipment; and

WHEREAS, this Board hereby deems it in the best interest of and of the greatest benefit to the public library district and the electors thereof and the residents of said public library district that such revenue be made available for the aforesaid designated purposes, as set forth by said law;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Fox Lake Public Library District, Lake and McHenry Counties, Illinois, that:

Section 1. The Board hereby determines to levy for 2002-2003 an additional tax not to exceed a tax rate of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the District, as equalized or assessed by the Department of Revenue, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs, and alterations of library buildings and equipment, pursuant to 75 ILCS 16/35-5 and for such other purposes set forth in the aforesaid statute.

Section 2. Within 15 days after its adoption, this Ordinance shall be published at least once in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published or circulated in the District, or otherwise posted in accordance with law, and also the "Public Notice" attached hereto as "Annex A" hereof, shall be included with such publication or posting.

Section 3. If, within the thirty (30) day period after publication of this ordinance, a petition is filed in accordance with law, signed by electors in the District equal in number to ten (10) percent or more of the total number of registered voters in the district, asking that the question of levying such a .02 percent tax be submitted to the electors of the District, the question shall be submitted at the next applicable election, or at any special election called in accordance with law. Said election shall be conducted in all particulars as set forth by statutes.

Section 4. If no petition is filed in accordance with law, this District shall then be authorized to levy the tax, and the tax levy ordinance for the forthcoming fiscal year may contain a direction to the County Clerk of the County or Counties within which the District lies to levy such additional tax.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication according to law, and any resolutions or ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed; and should any part of this ordinance be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication shall affect only that part of this act specifically covered thereby, which shall be severable therefrom, and shall not affect any other provisions or parts of this act.

CAMP

tious smile who also happens to be quite shy, but loves piggyback rides from Bennett.

Other area children at the camp included Shanika Mosley, Don Arte Brown and Adam Smith.

"A number of our kids come here from the burn unit at Loyola Medical Center in Maywood," said Barry Bennett, a social worker at Loyola.

Bennett also works as a counselor for the one week of camp. "The scars are the hardest to overcome. Here they have the opportunity to be a kid for a week and do all of the fun things that kids do at camp. The one-week they spend here has more of a therapeutic impact on the kids. It allows them to work on their self esteem and affords them the opportunity to be themselves," said Bennett.

Bennett said a young burn survivor from last year's camp was uncomfortable wearing a Burn Camp T-shirt, so she came up with a new name for the camp.

She explained how nice it was to come to camp as a kid and not a burn victim. This young girl's comments made the IFSA realize they were placing labels on these children inadvertently. So the IFSA asked last year's kids to come up with a name.

Camper Molly Schaller coined the name "I Am Me" and it was unanimously approved. The burn camp is now known as "I Am Me."

"This is a great way to form a support system for these kids," said Haage. "Many of these kids are isolated at school, they are worried about their scars and many have never met another child in the same situation. They experience name-calling and taunting from other kids. Here, they meet other kids who have been burned. Many make long-lasting friendships and they stay in touch throughout the year," said Haage.

How to help camp I Am Me

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer camp-counselor, or you would like to make a financial donation, you can call the camp at 847-528-3191.

You can also participate in the 2nd annual 5k Run/Walk to be held at Arvey Field, located at Columbus and Roosevelt, in Chicago. The event is scheduled for Thursday, July 25. You can register and get information on-line at WWW.SIGNMEUPSPORTS.COM.

You can also contact the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance (IFSA) at 800-634-0911, 847-390-0911, or by fax at 847-390-0920. Contact the IFSA by email at mwerder@ifsa.org, or go to their web-site at www.ifsa.org

Volunteers are needed to work the IFSA booth at the Illinois State Fair on Thursday, August 16. The intention is to reduce the number of children needing the IFSA burn camp through fire safety awareness education. Contact the IFSA if you are interested in volunteering. Transportation will be provided.

Sign up for the Fire Prevention Week Luncheon to be held on Thursday, October 10, in Hickory Hills. Order forms can be obtained by calling the IFSA. Tickets are $30 per person.

Bear Magic in Lake County makes sure every child arriving at the burn camp gets a teddy bear on their pillow when they arrive. To make a tax-deductible donation and to get more information on others in need of a teddy bear, contact Doreen Lagoni at 847-367-0087. You can also send a donation to Bear Magic, 16705 W. Arlington Drive, Libertyville, Ill., 60048-1468. Please make checks payable to Bear Magic.

DSL

Ameritech Illinois president Carrie Hightman urged a group of Lake County businesspeople to take an active role in making DSL accessible to the county.

Hightman, who is a Buffalo Grove resident, was named president last April. In her speech, she said while SBC-Ameritech has financially invested millions of dollars into Illinois and worked to boost their service, they are restricted from providing long-distance and broadband service to the county.

Hightman said loosening the regulations placed on SBC Ameritech would open the market for "robust, fair competition" enabling the company to play on an even playing field.

According to SBC Ameritech Blair Klein, the Telecommunications Act of 1996 mandates "Baby Bell" companies including SBC-Ameritech, BellSouth, Pacific Bell and U.S. West to adhere to a 14-point checklist enforced by state regulators and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

Klein refers to this legislation as a "BB (broadband) parody."

"Broadband technology offers the same service to consumers, but operate under different rules," she said. "This doesn't make sense."

In order to provide DSL service to homes a phone company's central offices must have the necessary equipment called a multiplexer. Residents must also reside 14,000 feet or roughly 2.6 miles from either the central office or a remote terminal, which are set up in neighborhoods.

and some 50 family members gathered for a birthday bash.

Cymanowski said she enjoyed the Seniors Day, sponsored by the Lake County Forest Preserve and held at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

"I get to see a lot of my friends," Cymanowski said.

"I am glad that I have longevity in my family," Taormina said.

Miholic could not be in attendance at the event due to a heart attack. Miholic, a former Lake County Forest Preserve commissioner, was instrumental in planning the first Seniors Day, in 1972.

"People come for the food, the give-aways, and admission is always free," he added.

The event was sponsored by, including, First Midwest Bank, Walgreens, Meisrow Financial, Lake Forest Hospital and Lakeland Media. Contributing sponsors were: Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre and Resort, Hillcrest Nursery Center, First Student Transportation, Vital Times, Pinnacle Health Care. Seniors enjoyed a ride on a trolley from the parking lots to the activities.

"It is wonderful way to give seniors the appreciation that they deserve for all their support," said Rosemary Mers, Wauconda Township trustee.

"So far, it has gone real well," said Avon Assessor Rick Dishman of the popcorn sales.

Organizers of the bingo tent said they expected 300 players. Prizes included grills and a photo plaque of the 2002 Chicago Cubs.

"I have come here for four or five years. I like going to the museum," said Carl Kleban of Sylvan Lake.

PUBLIC NOTICE
VILLAGE OF ROUND LAKE PARK
ANNUAL WATER QUALITY REPORT 2002

Este informe contiene información muy importante. Taduscalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Purpose

This is the annual water quality (or "consumer confidence") report that you will be receiving. Each year the Village will issue a report of this type to provide information about the quality of our drinking water as well as details on the source of our water, how it is treated, and what it contains. The reports are being issued in compliance with the requirements of the Safe Drinking Water Act and are also intended to demonstrate the Village's commitment to providing a safe and reliable supply of drinking water for our residents.

Background

Since 1992 the Village has purchased water from the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLCJAWA). CLCJAWA is an intergovernmental cooperative, formed by the communities it serves: Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, and the County of Lake representing the unincorporated areas of Knollwood/Roundout and Wildwood and the Village of Vernon Hills. CLCJAWA operates a water treatment facility which was designed using the best available technologies to ensure that water treated by CLCJAWA will meet all regulatory and quality standards now and for the foreseeable future.

The Water Treatment Process

Water treated by CLCJAWA at the Paul M. Neal Water Treatment Facility in Lake Bluff is pumped from Lake Michigan and then undergoes a treatment process designed to assure constant contaminant removal and production of clean, safe drinking water that is also aesthetically pleasing. There are two features of the treatment process, which provide unique capabilities. First, water from Lake Michigan goes through a primary disinfecting step using ozone, which has been found to be highly effective in removing contaminant's and in deactivating disease-causing pathogens. And, finally, the treated water passes through filters of granular activated carbon, which remove any remaining contaminates and particles from the water and has also proven to be proficient in eliminating problems sometimes encountered.

Abbreviations and what they mean:

(AL) Action Level is the level of lead that triggers special treatment or other required actions by a water supply NTU Nephelometric Turbidity Units is a measure of water cloudiness.
 pCi/L pico Curies per liter. The MCL for beta particles is 4mrem/year. EPA considers 50 pCi/L to be a level of concern for beta particles.
 pos/month means the number of water samples that contained coliform bacteria per month ppb parts per billion or micrograms per liter (μ g/L) ppm parts-per-million or milligrams per liter (mg/L)
 TT Treatment Technique refers to a required process intended to reduce a contaminant level in drinking water
 N/A Not applicable
 N/D Not detectable at testing limits

Lead and Copper:

There is no detectable lead or copper in the water that CLCJAWA provides to each community. Some homes with old lead service lines, lead plumbing, or lead solder, may have lead and copper in their water. To minimize this contamination, the Illinois EPA requires phosphate addition to our water in very low quantities of 0.3 ppm orthophosphate. This commonly used food ingredient coats the inside of your plumbing with a thin film. The film reduces the level of lead that may enter your water.

Sodium:

There is no state of federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers in case you are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If the sodium level in our water was greater than 20 ppm, and you were on sodium restricted diet, you would be advised to consult a physician.

Turbidity:

Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water. CLCJAWA monitors it because it is a good indicator of water quality and the effectiveness of their filtration and disinfection systems. Turbidity is monitored every six seconds by instruments and every four hours in the lab.

Additional Contaminant Monitoring

Our system also monitors for substances in water for which no standards have been set or for contaminants for which we are not required to monitor. We take the initiative to check our water for things that concern the public and the scientific community. In 1999, this additional testing included among numerous other things, asbestos. No asbestos was detected in the water entering the CLCJAWA water treatment plant.

Contamination Sources In Drink Water

Our tap water comes from Lake Michigan, a surface water source. With a depth of 900 feet, Lake Michigan is the largest lake in the United States, formed as glaciers retreated north during the last ice age. The Great Lakes contain approximately 20% of the fresh water on Earth's surface. More water evaporates off of Lake Michigan each minute than CLCJAWA pumps in an entire day. Since the United States and Canada formed the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement in 1972, Great Lakes water quality has steadily improved. The Illinois EPA will complete source water assessment of Lake Michigan by May 2003. As the information becomes available it will be incorporated in future water quality reports.

Both tap and bottled water come from rivers, lake, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring materials and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animal or human activity. Contaminants that may be present in untreated water include:

• Microbial contaminants such as viruses and bacteria can be naturally occurring or may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, and livestock operations.

CLC NOTES

Student orientation scheduled

The College of Lake County student development office will conduct summertime orientation sessions for new degree-seeking students who will attend CLC in the fall semester.

June sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on June 25 and from 5 to 8 p.m. June 27 in Room COO5.

July sessions will be held 9 a.m. to noon on July 2, 12, 18, 22 and 30 in Room COO5, and from 5 to 8 p.m. July 10 and 24 in Room COO5 and 5 to 8 p.m. July 16 in Room A162.

August sessions will be held 9 a.m. to noon Aug. 7 in Room COO2; Aug. 9 in COO3; and Aug. 15 and 17 in COO5. Evening sessions in August will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Aug. 1, 5 and 13 in COO5. All sessions will be held on the Grayslake Campus.

Participants are asked to arrive 15 minutes early for each session.

Sessions will include a multimedia presentation about CLC, a campus tour and a financial aid presentation. Students also will complete academic advisement in a group setting, course selection and registration.

New students are strongly encouraged to attend an orientation session.

Pre-orientation

Prior to attending the orientation, students must have a CLC application on file in the admissions office. They also must have completed the basic skills assessment process by taking CLC's Academic Proficiency Test or submitting high school or college transcripts and ACT, SAT or GED scores for evaluation.

Students enrolling in math courses are advised to take the math placement test. Pre-registration is required. For reservations, call 847-543-2090.

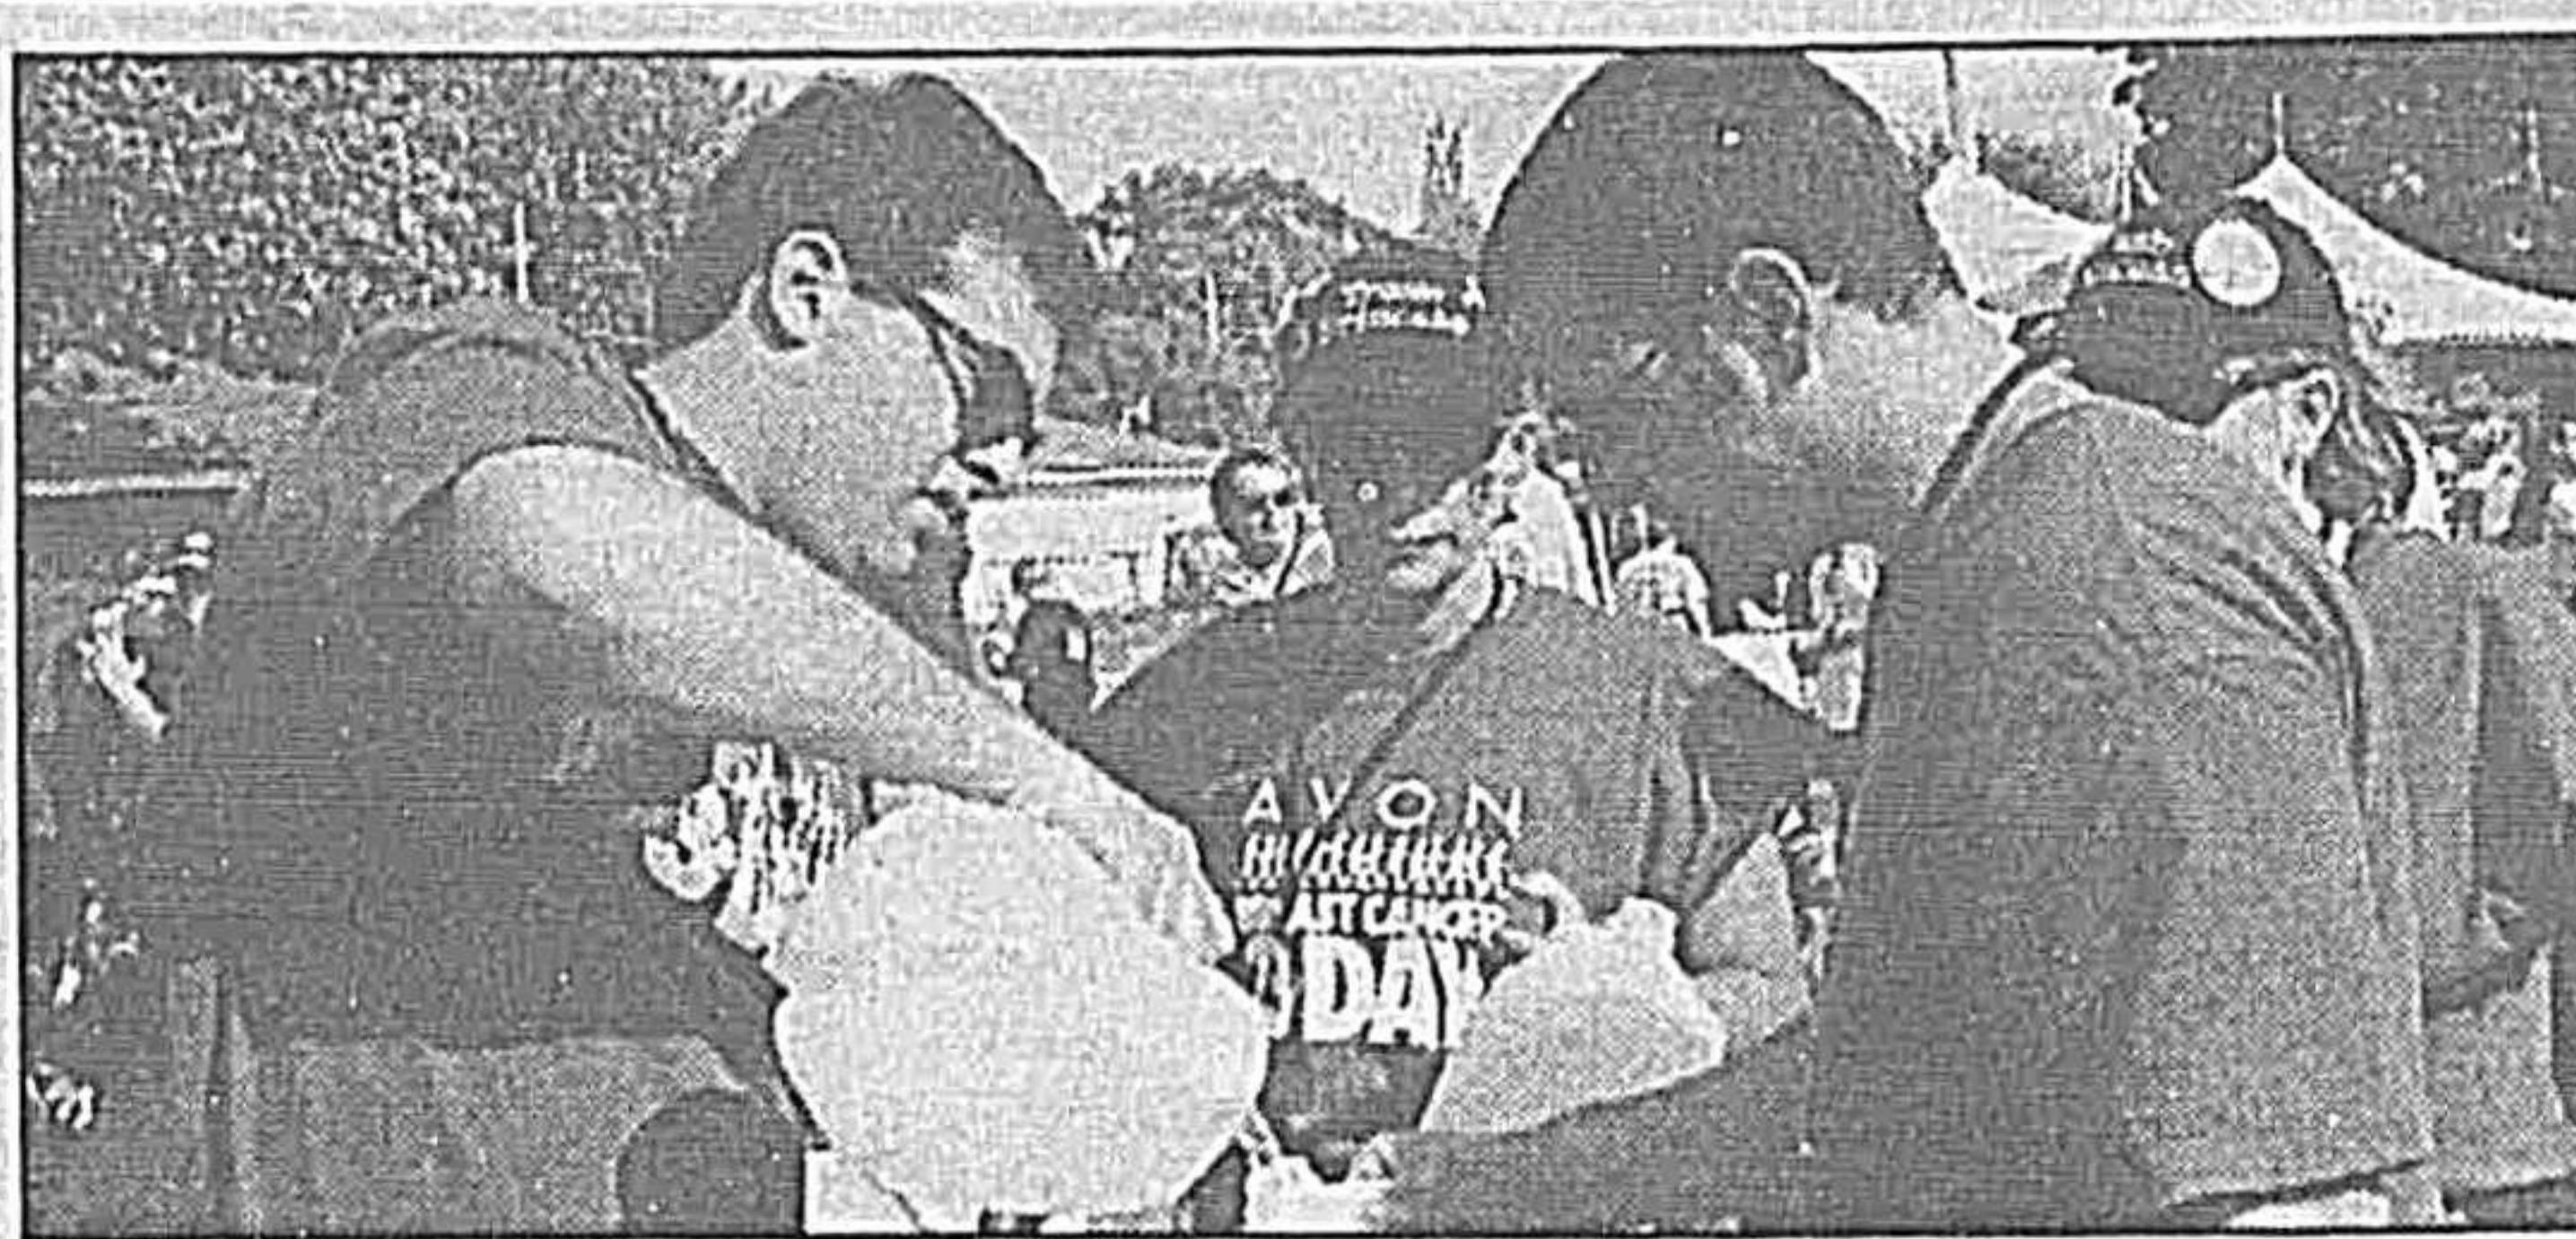

COUNTY

Roadside check results given

The Lake County Sheriff's Department announced the results of the Roadside Safety Check that was manned by law enforcement officers the evening of June 8.

The check was held June 8, starting at 10 p.m., and ended on June 9, at 3 a.m. The roadside check was staged at the intersection of Grass Lake Road and Route 59 in Antioch Township, and was manned by members of the Illinois State Police and the Lake County Sheriff's Office. A total of 603 vehicles were diverted through the safety check. In all, a total of 51 traffic citations were issued, with two being DUI arrests.

In addition, 12 drivers were cited for seat belt violations, six drivers were cited for licensing violations and 20 were cited for insurance regulations.

Walking for a cause

From left, Matt Cohen, Andrea Puritz and Jeff Morris were just three of the hundreds of volunteers who helped out in the Avon Breast Cancer 3-Day fundraiser. They walked from Kenosha, Wisconsin to Chicago over the three days and stopped in North Chicago for an overnight stay. Reportedly there were over 3,000 participants this year.—Photo by Samir Id-Deen

Political filing deadlines nearing

Lake County Clerk Willard Helander announced that June 17 was the first day for new political party candidates to file original nomination papers. Papers should be filed in the Lake County Clerk's office, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. The deadline for new political party candidates to file is June 24. Candidates may file in person or by mail. Those filing in person may do so during regular business hours from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Petitions received in the mail before the first day of the filing period will be returned as not filed. Those considering filing as New Party Candidates must provide a full slate of candidates for all county-wide offices and each County Board District. Candidates' names are placed on the official ballot in the order the nomination papers were filed (after the names of candidates of the established political parties).

ATTENTION PET OWNERS
We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
•Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
•Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
•Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Demonstrate the RIGHT Attitude to Future Employers

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Last week in this column I explained why many employers regard values, character, and attitudes as more important than skills. I also identified some of the attitudes that are most important to recruiters and hiring managers. This week, we will explore how to demonstrate your positive attitudes to a future employer.

Most candidates have been trained to focus only on skills when applying for a job. Learning to discuss attitudes with future employers can be uncomfortable. Here are some steps to start that process:

• Distinguish Important Values – Write down the values that are important to you. Every item you list reflects your attitudes, so the more you list the more information you will have to share with a possible future employer.

• Describe Attitudes – Values influence attitudes and every attitude is viewed as positive by some and as negative by others. A person who believes that family is important is more sensitive to those with families but may not be as sensitive to others. Someone who believes that diversity is important may be sensitive to many segments of society but may offend some that have strong specific beliefs. Those who value honesty will be more honest, but if not done tactfully, that honesty may offend others. List the positive perceptions in one column and the negative perceptions in another.

• Develop a Plan – Create an approach to tell others about these good attitudes. You want to share data as early in the process as possible. Although including them in the resume is often awkward, the language that you use will tell a future employer much about your attitudes. You may be able to include some of the attitudes in the cover letter. Examples include: "My analytical nature and calm demeanor allow me to lead others in times of stress," "In my last performance evaluation I was told that my strong interpersonal skills contributed to teamwork," or "Several co-workers recently recognized my contributions to a project in a sister department."

Look for opportunities to share your positive attitudes in the interviewing process. When giving illustrations that demonstrate your skills also mention the attitudes that contributed to the accomplishment. For example: "my past project management experience was a key factor in completing the XYZ project on time and within the budget constraints. The people who worked on the project were diligent, supportive and goal oriented. I believe that teamwork is important. We functioned as a team on this project."

• Decide to Implement – You now have all of the needed information and a plan to share that data. The last step is to start sharing with future employers.

The four D's for sharing your attitudes and values with future employers is a process that has worked for me and for many of my friends. Give it a try and future employers will be more likely to select you as the best person to fill that important opening.

Scott T. Fleischmann is the Managing Principal for Integrity Business Solutions Inc., a full service management consulting firm. He can be contacted through e-mail at ib.scout@juno.com or through the company web site at www.aboutintegrity.net.
